THE GREAT MEETING OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

We are glad to be able to inform our readers that the Convention of Soldiers and Sailors, to be held in this city on the 25th, is rapidly assuming a practical shape. So much was expected of the Covention when it was determined on, that the county Executive Committee determined upon building a Wigwam on the Allegheny Commons for the accommodation of the Convention. On Saturday the contract with the Messrs. FRAZIER, of Allegheny, was closed, and the work commenced. The ladies appointed to decorate City Hall, which is to be used for receptions, are organized and hard at work getting up designs for the decorations. From our knowledge of these ladies we hazard nothing in saying that when their work is finished it will be unequaled by anything of the kind ever witnessed in Pittsburgh.

The Resident Committee of this county, anxious that every stranger should be cared for while here, have taken steps to secure the co-operation of the citizens generally, and of the Subsistence Committee especially. We have not yet learned whether the Subsistence Committee have responded; but we are satisfied that if they have time to gather together the utensils necessary for the work they will be among the foremost in sustaining our well-known character for hospitality. Quite a number of our citizens have already notified the Resident Committee of their willingness to open their houses to the soldiers, and it is hoped that the number will be largely increased without delay. Our citizens should not wait to be personally requested, but go at once to City Hall, where the committee meets daily, and leave their names, residences, and the number they will accommodate.

It is expected that the soldiers and sailors in attendance upon the Convention will, as far as possible, appear in uniform. Being a gathering of the soldiers it is intended to make it embrace as many military features as possible. A part only of the programme to be observed during the session has been agreed upon. On Tuesday evening, the 25th, a grand torchlight procession will take place, on which occasion it is desired that all our citizens who are friendly to the cause, and who desire to extend a cordial greeting to the soldiers from other States, will illuminate their dwellings and business houses, and display flags and transparencies. We have never had an occasion to illuminate so generally as this will be. Beyond the vast importance of the cause to advance which the Convention is called, is the opportunity it will offer to our citizens to do honor to the heroes who saved the Union from the hand of treason. As our Pittsburgh regiments came home singly at he close of the war, it was not possible to give them the welcome their deeds deserved. There will probably never be an occasion on which so many will meet together in Pittsburgh, and we trust the coming occasion will be generally improved.

On Thursday morning, the 29th, a grand lemonstration in which soldiers and citizens will participate, will be held on the Commons. The details for neither of these lemonstrations have yet been arranged, and we are unable to do more than announce them. The soldiers throughout he county are fully awake, and organizing for the Convention. It is expected that hey will be fully prepared to take part in eceiving their comrades from a distance, who will commence to arrive on Monday, he 24th.

A MELANCHOLY REBEL.

JACOB THOMPSON, of Buchanan Cabinet ame, has been heard from through a letter ublished in a Mississippi paper, dated at Dublin, Ireland, August 11. During the war it was his business to organize conspiracies, and he probably knows too much about the assassination plot. He has wandered through all lands, and returned in a melancholy mind. Let him confess and be hanged. He says with all his faults he oves his country,—for "there is no such country in the world," says he. In a doleful strain he goes on to say:

> "I have visited every kingdom and people which have any position among the nations of he earth, and with the intention—if ever I could ind an acceptable place—to settle down and ather my little family around me, and there, n quiet, spend the remnant of my days, but find no place in which I am willing to leave ny family. No, for good or evil, the best country is in the United States; and if there could only be security of person, property and reputation, it would be the most desirable country on earth. At all events those dependent on me, I want them to remain and abide the ate of their country. What shall become of me s of but little consequence; my days of usefulness are past. My sun is fast hastening to its etting, but my will shall be that when life's itful fever is over, my body shall be buried beneath the soil which has been fattened with the blood of my ancestors in the struggle for its independence."

The wretched man will awaken little ympathy. His offenses have been too reat, though he would have it appear he s a deeply injured man. Hear him:

> "Mr. Johnson is or may be well disposed, but ielding to the suggestions of a deep designing nalignancy on the part of others, he has inflicted upon me a gross injustice; he has done me a rievous wrong in denouncing me as an escaped elon. I believe he knows and feels it, but I ear he is like all other men—the more groundless the reasons for his injury, the more obstinate he will be in refusing to make reparation. Moreover, the President cannot act for fear of he denunciations of the Radicals, if he were ver so well disposed. I would be unwilling to mbarrass him with anything on my account, or I honestly believe if he succeeds there is ome hope for the country. If he fails, the Constitution is buried, civil rights will become byords, liberty is gone, and a deep gloom of inevitable darkness hangs over the destiny of the reatest people in the world. I weigh not my wn fate as a feather in the balance; I only ope to live until I shall have power under the aw to prosecute the perjurer and inflict punishment upon those who have wronged me. nd although I have knelt at the tomb of our avior, yet I fear that the punishment that waits the evil-doer in the next world would be oo long in its coming."

NCREASED PAY OF CONGRESSMEN.

The following statement may be relied pon as a correct analysis of the votes cast n the proposition to increase the pay of nembers of Congress, in its various tages. It will be seen that it received lmost the unanimous support of the President's friends, with whom, also, it originad. It may be hoped the President will e better posted on this topic before he ets out on his next stumping tour:

> In the matter of compensation of members of ongress, the first movement to that end was nade by Mr. Johnson, of Pennsylvania, one of e most intense admirers of A. J.
> On the 12th of January he introduced the folowing resolution:
> Resolved, That the Committee on Appropriaons be instructed to bring in a bill increasing e compensation of members of Congress and overnment employees in this city in proporon to the increased cost of living in this city ver what it was at the time the same was fixed, also the increased cost of living in this city ver the cost of living in other cities of the nion.
> Mr. E. B. Washburne (Union) moved that it laid on the table, and only five members vod in the negative, viz: Mr. Johnson, Jones, Blond, Nicholson, and S. J. Randall, every e of them A. J. men. Subsequently, Mr. Nibck (a friend of A. J.) reported a bill for the me purpose. Again, the provision which is now e law was incorporated in the civil appropriall, and was voted down almost unanimously the House, only three or four in the negative, l of whom except one were Johnson men, cluding his private Secretary, Cooper;) and it ver was adopted by the House until the unty to soldiers was dependent upon its ssage, and then not more than one-fifth of e Johnson men voted against it, while more an half of the Republicans voted against it. Had one-half or one-third of the Johnson men voted against it, it never could have passed.
> And yet this truthful and candid President of ours has the effrontery to charge that the men who oppose "my policy" are responsible for this measure. Failing, too, to admit that if he had not approved it, it never could have become a law.

WELL authenticated rumor avers that the news from Maine had an effect almost miraculous on the President and his party of tourists. Mr. SEWARD shortly after took sick, and Mr. JOHNSON became sober, —we mean he became thoughtful and anxous; the party for the first time began to talk among themselves about DOUGLAS, to whose tomb they now recollected they had been paying a visit, and to converse seriously on kindred topics. The President, though a strong-willed man, and much given to disputation, was little disposed, we are assured, to talk back to the people of a State or engage in any discussion over the news, as he had done. From the moment the news struck them the President's party became changed.

SINCE the Maine election the Democrats are free to concede that Mr. JOHNSON is a dangerous man, for in a remarkably brief space of time he has blown their party sky high!

Washington Topics and Gossip.

MAX'S BLOCKADE.

The United States steamer Chocura is reported to have arrived off Tampico, from Pensacola. Her mission is the protection of American vessels and citizens in that quarter, in case they should require it when running the "blockade" of the Imperial authorities.

MAJOR GENERAL HOWARD.

There are fresh rumors about the displacement of Major General Howard from the head of Bureau affairs, but the Secretary of War has "put his foot down," and declared that such an event shall not occur.

GENERAL DIX.

General Dix having failed to receive the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York, should Hon. John P. Hale be recalled from Madrid, (as is not likely,) would, it is thought stand, a very good chance of being a successor.

The increase of gold in the Treasury continues rapid—the actual amount of coin on hand at the close of business last evening being $64,500,000. Add to this the gold certificates, and we have a grand total of nearly $83,000,000. As there are to be no further payments of interest until the November coupons are met, the probabilities are that the bullion and certificates will rise to over $100,000,000 before that period. The November payments will absorb of this amount about $24,000,000.

When this great strength of the United States Treasury becomes fully known in Europe, it is believed the result will be an important advance in the price of all our gold bearing bonds, and an increased demand for the same.

NAPOLEON AND MEXICO.

The question is being asked why General Marques is going to Mexico to "reorganize the army there after the French evacuation of the country?" Another telegram, of the 11th, says that Max. is expected home by every steamer. Is Louis Napoleon then going to name a successor to Max? If not, why dispatch a prominent French General to Mexico to reorganize the army? This would certainly not be necessary if Louis Napoleon intended to retire absolutely from Mexico, and that he does not thus intend is proven clearly by his movement looking to a better organization of the army. Whether Max. abdicates or not, it appears Louis Napoleon remains to carry out (or endeavor to) the objects (including the control of the Tehuantepec route) he has had from the commencement. The probabilities, however, are (and I speak from pretty good authority, wholly regardless of cable "abdictions") that Maximilian will continue in his present position until the designs of Napoleon are fully achieved or exploded. In other words, when one retires from Mexico, the other will retire with him.

THE COMMAND IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Unless the President himself orders a change in the command of the South Carolina Department, there will be none made. A few days will probably determine. Meanwhile, it is no secret here, that the course of General Sickles, in obeying orders from the War Department that were in direct conflict with the President's views and publicly expressed position, has rendered that officer somewhat unpopular in the eyes of the Executive, who may think it proper to appoint some more acceptable commander in his place.

SECRETARY STANTON AND HIS PROSECUTORS.

I hear that the Secretary of War is preparing to meet the charges laid against him by Mr. Smithson, and the trial is expected to come off within the next two months. Should the verdict by any possibility be against Mr. Stanton, he will probably be troubled with law-suits during the remainder of his life, judging from the number that have been rumored as on the tapis since that of Smithson's was instituted. Mr. Stanton's chief defense will be that he acted as an officer of the Government, and that he is not, therefore, personally responsible for the extra functions he may have assumed during the war.

THE CLEARING HOUSE CERTIFICATES.

There are rumors that it is the intention of Secretary McCulloch to redeem the clearing House certificates now used by the banks, commencing some time during the present month. These certificates bear the form of a temporary loan, and amount to over $45,000,000.

TREASURY INSTRUCTIONS.

The Secretary of the Treasury yesterday issued instructions to the Assistant Treasurers and to the Collectors of Customs, designated as depositories, at Baltimore, Buffalo, Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, and Charleston, under which they are required to keep on hand unbroken packages of internal revenue stamps for sale, at the same rates of commission as are allowed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

All National Banks designated as depositaries of public money are also required, by instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, to keep for sale, in such amounts as the public may require, and at the rates of commissions, internal revenue stamps, which they may purchase from the Assistant Treasurer, or designated depositories first named, or the Commissioner. The rates allowed are as follows: In sums of fifty dollars and upwards, two per cent.; two hundred dollars and upwards, three per cent.; five hundred dollars and upwards, four per cent.; one thousand dollars and upwards, five per cent.

Congress Right--The President Wrong

The Only Hope of the South is the Congressional Plan.

The Constitutional Amendment will go Through

[From the New York Herald of Saturday.]

The fogs and clouds in which the great question of Southern restoration has been covered up since the adjournment of Congress, are at length breaking away. We know now what to do. We have been taught by the famous mariner Daniel Webster, after drifting about for many days in thick weather and in an unknown sea, to avail ourselves of the first glimpse of the sun for an observation and a reckoning, in order to ascertain how far the winds and the waves have driven us from our true course. We thus find from the bearings of the Maine election, that the true course for the Southern States and the administration is laid down in the Constitutional Amendment of Congress. In other words, we are convinced from the significant results of the Maine election that this amendment will carry all the Northern States yet to come, and that against the solid North any further resistance from the administration or the excluded Southern States will be a waste of time, foolish and suicidal to all concerned.

We would therefore urge upon President Johnson the statesmanlike policy of a truce with Congress, and an active co-operation with the fixed and predominant public opinion of the North, in behalf of the immediate restoration of the South on the basis of this constitutional amendment. We have shown that there is nothing in it which the President has not himself, at one time or another, recommended as essential to the security of the Union. It is not the radical plan; it is not so near, in fact, to the rebel disabling and confiscation plan of Thaddeus Stevens as the propositions put forth from time to time by Andrew Johnson. It is a compromise which the President ought to have adopted in co-operation with Congress, and which he ought to adopt at all events, because his conflict with Congress, if persisted in, will be most emphatically decided against him. It cannot be otherwise. The inevitable result is as clear to the searcher for the true situation of things as the light of the sun through the breaking clouds. Not one of the States which voted for Lincoln and Johnson will fail to adopt this constitutional amendment, since New Jersey, the only Northern State whose vote was against them, has led off for the North in the ratification.

The policy and the duty of President Johnson, therefore, are as clear as a mathematical demonstration, and equally clear is the policy of the still excluded Southern States. We have earnestly advocated the President's policy; but after the verdict of the jury the argument is at an end. The example of Tennessee in the ratification of the amendment is now the only alternative for the other Southern States. Tennessee in ratifying the amendment, opened the door to the admission of her members into both houses of Congress.

* * * * * * * * *

This amendment is going through. There is no other settlement for the South. The Governors of the Southern States ought, therefore, to call their legislatures together at once and ratify this amendment, so that with the meeting of Congress in December they may be all restored to both houses. In this way they can at once secure the balance of power in Congress and put an end to any further attempt of the radicals to apply new restrictions of State restoration. The Southern States, too, will thus be put in a position to take their ground and shape their course to some purpose in view of the Presidential election. What has been done in the case of Tennessee amounts to the adoption of a rule of admission. The way is plain, the door is open, and in this simple act of ratification the South will be restored to its balance of power. It is the ultimatum of the victorious North, and the South will lose much and gain nothing by delay in its adoption.

CAMPAIGN DOCUMENTS.—The Republican committee have carefully collected the speeches of President Johnson, made during his present electioneering trip, and, when completed by the speeches at Baltimore and here on his return, have seriously under consideration the idea of publishing them as a Radical campaign document. Coarse and undignified as most of them are, it is believed that they may be made to do effective service, if published together and widely distributed among the people, in showing the real drift and purpose of the President's reconstruction policy and the so-called Conservative party.

PRESIDENT'S TOUR ENDED.

The Reception at Washington.

Secretary Seward Seriously Ill.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 15, 1866.

The arrangements for the reception of the President on his return from his tour, under the mudicipal authorities, were very complete, and if the demonstration had taken place by daylight as was intended, it would have been very effective. As it was, the delay at Baltimore prevented the arrival of the President's train until after dark, and greatly impaired the effect and shortened the programme. The train was advertised to arrive at five P. M., and at four o'clock, the different delegations which were to compose the procession were mustered and marched to the positions assigned them. An immense crowd had assembled at the City Hall, where the welcoming address of Mayor Wallach and the President's responses were to be delivered, and in the vicinity of the depot. Five o'clock came, but there were no signs of the Presidential party. The crowd waited very good naturedly and patiently. As it grew dark, many of the people, especially the ladies and juveniles, grew weary and left their places, soon to be filled by new comers, who were constantly arriving on the scene.

Finally, shortly after seven o'clock the firing of the salute gave notice of the approach of the train, and as it entered the depot and the President and his friends entered the carriages provided for them, cheering, loud, long and enthusiastic, spoke the welcome of the people. The procession was soon formed, the military in the advance, followed by the carriages containing the Committee and the Presidential party, and after them the civic portion of it, and proceeded to the City Hall. From ten to fifteen thousand people were here assembled. The President proceeded to the portico of the City Hall, and was here welcomed by the Mayor fittingly and appropriately, which was happily responded to by him.

Owing to the lateness of the hour and the exhaustion of the President from the fatigues which he had undergone in his protracted and laborious journey, both addresses were very brief. In consequence of the dense throng, but a few, comparatively, were able to hear the speakers, but the applause of those who could hear was re-echoed by the multitude, which by this time extended some distance down Four-and-a-half street towards the avenue.

At the conclusion of the address the procession was reformed, and proceeded down Third street to Pennsylvania Avenue, and up the Avenue to the White House. All along the Avenue the sidewalks were densely crowded by the people who had come out to do honor to the Chief Magistrate, and as the carriage in which he was seated passed along, it was greeted with a succession of loud and heart-felt cheers. A great crowd had preceded the President to the White House, and filled the space in front of it so that it was with some difficulty a passage wus opened through it for the procession to pass through. The military escort, consisting of the First and Third Battalions of the Thirteenth United States Infantry and one squadron of the Fifth United States Cavalry, and preceded by General Canby and his staff, had the advance. These filed to the right of the arch, in front of the Executive Mansion. After them came the carriage containing the President and others, with the rest of his party. As the President's carriage drove up to the entrance of the Executive Mansion the vast crowd again gave vent to its feelings in loud and most enthusiastic cheers.

The President alighted from his carriage and took a position upon the portico, where he could review the balance of the procession as it filed past him. After the carriages had passed the employees of the Washington Navy Yard and Arsenal marched by, bearing transparencies, on which were inscribed "Welcome to the Chief Magistrate, the Workman's Friend." "Honor to our distinguished Secretary. The Navy Yard men respect him." "Grant and Farragut, heroes on the land and sea. To our Admiral, welcome home." "William H. Seward, the able statesman and diplomat." "Washington Arsenal welcome—"Welcome our President." The Johnson Departmental Club followed with their richly emblazoned banner, and after them came the various Johnson clubs, civic associations, etc. The procession was closed by the Fire Department, which was out in full force with their steam fire engines, hose carriages, hook and ladder trucks, etc. The apparatus was decked with a multitude of flags, and the men were handsomely uniformed. As each delegation passed under the arch, and in review before the President, they saluted him with loud and enthusiastic cheers.

When the processsion had all passed the crowd called loudly and persistently for the President, who, taking a position where all could hear him, returned thanks briefly for the reception and welcome which he had received, saying that such a welcome from a people whom he had long known and served was truly gratifying, and would be remembered while a pulsation remained in his body by which to remember. He had endeavored to do his duty, and should continue to perform what he believed to be his official duty in the future as in the past, and gave his past acts as his promise for the future. He had seen and been similarly welcomed by millions since he had left here, and it was his opinion that an inspiration had gone forth which would at no distant day unite the whole people under the Constitution and the law. Again returning thanks for the reception they had given him, he bowed his adieus and amidst enthusiastic and tumultous applause retired into the White House.

There were a few calls for Farragut, but the crowd gradually and quietly dispersed and returned to their homes.

General Grant left the party at Baltimore and came on the regular train about two hours before the President, and quietly slipping out of the depot, entered a carriage which was waiting, and was driven to his house.

Secretary Welles and Admiral Farragut stood by the President to the last, and accompanied him to the White House.

The President looks tired, and was somewhat hoarse, but seemed to be vigorous and energetic to the last.

Secretary Seward arrived here on a special train between two and three o'clock, and was taken to his house in a very weak and exhausted state. Rumors were in circulation here this evening that he was dead; but this is incorrect. Although very sick, it is hoped that he will recover soon, now that he is where he can receive proper nursing and attendance.

Postmaster General Randall arrived here this morning. He met the President at the depot and accompanied the procession to the White House. At noon to-day the heads of bureaus of the Treasury Department met at the office of the Fourth Auditor, and after some discussion a committee was appointed to solicit an audience of the President on Monday next, at such time as would be convenient for him, in order that they might extend to him a formal welcome back to his post.

HARRISBURG, September 15, 9 A. M.—The Presidential party have just left here, the multitude cheering the President, Grant and Farragut. The President bowed his thanks.

YORK, PA., September 15, 10:30 A. M.—Thousands of enthusiastic persons gathered here and vociferously cheered the Presidential party. The excursionists were conducted in carriages to the Washington House, where they were warmly welcomed to the place by Judge Fisher, in behalf of the authorities and citizens of York. The President responded, and throughout the delivery of his remarks, was enthusiastically cheered.

BALTIMORE, 2 P. M.—Immense crowds of excited people were collected here to greet the President, General Grant and Admiral Farragut. Governor Swann met the President at the station, and delivered an address, in which he informed him that the City Councils of Baltimore had refused to co-operate with the Mayor in paying proper respect to the Chief Magistrate of the nation, nevertheless the President would find a spontaneous uprising of the people to greet him.

The people of Maryland believed that he was honestly engaged in a patriotic effort to restore a distracted Union, and to stay the tendency towards centralization and consolidation which threatened our common safety; and believing thus, would stand by him. Speaking to-day as a representative of Maryland, he asked to be believed when he said that the insult attempted to be cast on the President proceeded from a class of Radicals who scarcely deserve the name of a party in the State. The people at the ballot box in the coming election will impress into the Radical faction that they have misrepresented the people in refusing to extend proper courtesy to the position of the Chief Magistrate of our country.

The President replied briefly, expressing his heartfelt thanks for the kind and cordial welcome that had been extended to him by the Governor as the representative of the people of Maryland, not only to him as the Chief Magistrate of the country, but as a citizen of the United States. The address of the Governor and the reply of the President were warmly applauded.

The guests were then escorted to the Eutaw House. The streets were thronged throughout the entire route, men cheering and women waving their handkerchiefs. National flags were thrown out in all directions. Nearly everybody seemed to have deserted their homes to do honor to the President and his party. Thousands were around a stand in front of the Eutaw House, which was erected for the occasion, and which was beautifully festooned with flags and flowers and adorned with mottoes.

Ex-Governor Bradford here made a formal speech of welcome to the President, complimenting him for his long and earnest efforts in behalf of the Union and the Constitution, and expressing the hope that he would return to the capital of the nation additionally strengthened to perform the duties with which he was entrusted.

The President replied at length. He reiterated his confidence in the people to uphold their liberties; and as for himself, he would stand by the Constitution though all else around him should perish. The time had come when the people should rise above party and come to the rescue of our imperilled country, against the tyrannical and dangerous encroachments of Congress. He then made an earnest appeal for reconciliation and harmony among all sections, so that our nation, united in heart and hand, may go on in a career of prosperity and glory. The President was loudly cheered during the delivery of his speech.

The President and party were then entertained at a banquet at the Eutaw. Gov. Swann made a speech proposing the health of the President, which was received with great cheering. The President briefly returned thanks.

WASHINGTON, September 15.—The train left Baltimore for Washington at half-past 5 o'clock, and the President was loudly cheered by the thousands upon thousands of persons at the station. The reception in Baltimore was indeed earnest and emphatic. Gen. Grant left in the early afternoon train for Washington, and therefore was not present at the banquet.

WASHINGTON, 7:30 P. M.—A large crowd met the President at the station and greeted him with repeated cheers. He was escorted to the front of City Hall, where Major Wallach welcomed him in a brief address, to which the President replied by tendering his thanks. The procession of military companies and civic associations accompanied the President to the Executive Mansion. All along the route he was greeted with continued cheers. Some of the buildings along the avenue were brilliantly illuminated, while from others the national flag was displayed. Thousands of persons were in the streets as spectators, while a large crowd had gathered before the Executive Mansion. The President, on alighting from his carriage, spoke as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS: For this demonstration you tender me upon my return home to assume the discharge of my official duties, you will please accept my heartfelt thanks. Such a welcome from the people who have been thedaily eye-witnesses of the manner in which I have discharged my duties, is peculiarly gratifying. All I can promise you for the future is, that there will be a continuance of my conduct in the past. I have toiled to discharge my official duties in compliance with the constitution and the principles which I deemed to be right. I will add that the sentiment which you exhibit to-night is not peculiar to yourselves, but that which pervades the country wherever I have been. My own opinion is that the expression which has gone abroad with regard to sustaining a government of constitutional law, is unmistakable and not to be misunderstood; and I believe the day is not distant when the judgment of the American people will be made manifest, that this Union must be restored, that peace and prosperity and harmony must again prevail throughout the United States. I believe I can safely testify that the great portion of your fellow-citizens that I have visited, and I have seen millions of them since I left you, will accord with you in sustaining the principles of free government in compliance with the Constitution of the country.

Permit me, in returning this evening, to again tender you, a people whom I have known long, in whose midst I have served in various official capacities, and now serve in that of Chief Magistrate, my heartfelt thanks for this cordial welcome, which will be remembered by me as long as there is a pulsation in my heart.

Cheer after cheer was given for the President at the conclusion of his remarks, when he bowed his thanks and entered the Executive Mansion.

The Dry Tortugas islands were recently fired upon by a strange craft bearing the rebel flag, and Dr. Mudd was injured by a shell. The vessel was not pursued.

THE JOHNSTOWN DISASTER

NAMES OF THE VICTIMS.

Their Ages and Nature of Injuries.

But Three Persons Killed.

Johnstown, and the immediate surrounding country, is still wrapped in gloom and sorrow over the late disaster. Nearly every other house is a hospital, and everybody uninjured engaged in nursing and alleviating the sufferings of the wounded. The people of Johnstown were suddenly reminded of war, for the place is something like a town near to a battle-field. We must say, however, that the people have gone to work with a will, and are bearing up manfully under their troubles. Every one able to contribute in money, provisions or help, is doing so most cheerfully. Many of the heads of families are badly injured, and were without either provisions or money to keep them a week ahead. The wants of such were at once attended to.

There have been no surgeons from a distance, in attendance, since some time Saturday, and we feel confident that the few physicians, resident there, are not able to attend to the wounded in the manner it should be done. They are, however, doing all they can. We cannot learn of a single amputation having been performed yet, though many will undoubtedly have to take place soon. Some are too weak to have operations performed. The old men and women who received broken legs or arms, seem to be lower and in much more danger than the younger people.

It is extremely difficult to get a correct list of the wounded, as they are so many, and scattered over so large a boundary, not only in Johnstown but in the surrounding boroughs and townships. Our list foots up nearly three hundred and fifty persons injured, more or less. All sorts of stories are afloat as to the number already dead. Saturday night we were assured that eleven had died, but such is not the case. The only persons that we could learn of as having died, are the three reported killed on the spot, and we have traveled the place over and consulted physicians and the coroner, and went among those reported dangerous, but could hear of no more, although between twenty and fifty are in a very low condition, and probably the majority of that number will die.

There is much indignation among the people, because the surgeons on the Presidential train, although telegraphed to Galitzen to at once return and also to Altoona, but one stopped off here and he took the first train to rejoin the party. If there were any more surgeons aboard the train, than the one whe halted a few minutes with the wounded, the people may have a right to complain.

There are many accounts afloat as to the cause of the accident, and to get the true one will require perhaps a judicial investigation. The people generally are speaking harshly against the railroad company, and talk of commencing an action for damages. They allege that the timbers of the platform were unsound, although it is but a short time since it was repaired. It is true that the wood work was slightly decayed, but whether, if the timber had been all perfectly sound, and put under such a pressure as they were last Friday, the same thing would not have happened, is a question that may yet have to be answered before a legal tribunal. The platform was erected and answered for the purpose for which it was put up. It was constructed of timber of the ordinary size used in similar structures. But the main span at one end of the platform, constructed on the Howe Truss plan, was not sufficient to support the enormous number of human beings that congregated upon it to see the President. The rear end of the train halted opposite the end of the platform where was the long Howe-Truss span, of over forty feet in length, and the main support of the platform. On that end, in order to get near the President, the people rushed in a mass, and it not being sufficiently strong to bear up such an uncommon and sudden weight, broke in the center of the span at a place where there was the least appearance of dry rot, and down went the whole structure, and with it every person on the platform. But few persons on it escaped unhurt. When it broke the people were ablaze with excitement and with hands uplifted, and holding overhead children, were cheering lustily. Long before the arrival of the train, Mr. S. M. Cornell, the builder of the platform and truss warned the people not to crowd the structure, as it would not be safe.

There are many instances of persons who came out of the wreck, apparently uninjured, and who walked to their homes with ease, but were soon after found to be internally injured to such an extent, that they are now in a critical condition.

A coroner's inquest was held Saturday, on the bodies of David Metzgar, Nathaniel Duncan and Mrs. James Quirk. The jury adjourned until Monday evening at six o'clock, when a number of witnesses will be examined in regard to the origin of the disaster.

To show the excitement and rumors afloat, we will state that, when then the jury set out on Saturday, they were apprised of quite a number of deaths. They had no trouble in finding the body of Mr. Metzgar. The next one they started to find was a child. After considerable search, the child was found, and in a fair way of recovery. The next was for the body of Mary Trabert. After much search she was found, but almost uninjured. The body of Nathaniel Duncan was found as reported to them. The jury also found Mrs. Quirk, as reported, killed outright. After several more searches for reported dead, none could be found, and the jury adjourned. This experience of the jury was something like our own yesterday.

Official information was received last evening at six o'clock of the death of a child, whose name we could not learn, which took place at 5 P. M., in the borough of Conemaugh. This makes four deaths up to yesterday morning.

The following is a list of the names of those injured, with the nature of their wounds, their ages and condition:

Aid for the Sufferers.

On Saturday evening the citizens of Johnstown and the adjoining boroughs and townships, met together to devise ways and means to alleviate the sufferings of the victims of the late accident. The Burgess of Johnstown, A. Koplin, Esq., was elected President of the meeting, and S. B. M'Cormick, Secretary. A committee of one person from each ward of Johnstown, and one from each neighboring borough and township, was appointed to collect funds, disburse the same to the sufferers, employ nurses wherever necessary, and take any other step requisite to alleviate the wants of the wounded. The committee consists of the following named gentlemen: James Mooley, H. A. Boggs, R. P Linton, W. Dysert, Leonard Dill, H. D. Woodruff, Rev. P. Garvey, E. G. Lewis, Wm. A. Krise, John White and James Cooper. H. J. Roberts, cashier of First National Bank, was appointed Treasurer of the funds collected for the sufferers.

The meeting unanimously passed a resolution suggesting that each merchant, professional man, mechanic and laborer, of Johnstown and neighborhood, should give their earnings of next Tuesday to the sufferers. This will at once raise a fund over $10,000.

Mr. Morrell read a letter from President Johnson, donating $500, and also one from General John W. Geary, giving $200. He also stated that he was authorized by the Cambria Iron Company to subscribe $1000, and he himself gave $200.

The citizens that had funds with them then stepped forward and subcribed as follows:

George Fritz	$50	D. Nulty	5
Jas. P. McConaughey	25	John P. Linton	10
John Mc McKenna	28	Samuel ibert	5

CITY MATTERS.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Meeting of the Committee—Arrangements for the Great National Convention—Communications—Excursion Tickets to be Issued—Demonstrations.

The Resident Committee of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention held a meeting at City Hall, Pittsburgh, on Saturday morning. Present—Messrs. Negley, Barnes, Pearson, Bayne, Kerr, Cook, Kilgore, Torrence, MacConnell, Harper and Smith. Gen. J. S. Negley presided, and the Secretary, Capt. N. M. Smith officiated.

Gen. A. L. Pearson, from the Committee on Wigwam, reported that the committe hade made a contract with Frazier Bros., of Allegheny city for the construction of a Wigwam capable of holding ten thousand soldiers.

On motion of Lieutenant Cook the contract was approved.

Dr. E. S. Umbstaetter from the Committee on Tents, reported that hospital tents could be procured for the headquarters of the Resident Committee and Executive Committee of the county "Boys in Blue," on the Fair Grounds of Iron City Park. The report was accepted and the committee continued.

Capt. Ell. Torrence from Committee on Flags, reported that he had contracted for thirty-six flags to be obtained from Philadelphia.

Gen. Pearson, from the Committee on Railroads, reported that the Pennsylvania Central, Allegheny Valley, and Philadelphia and Erie railroads had consented to issue excursion tickets at half fare to all persons attending the great National Convention of the 25th inst.

Gen. Pearson, from the Committee on Posters, also reported that parties would start on the various railroads on that (Saturday) evening to distribute the posters throughout the country.

Gen. J. S. Negley, from Superintending Committee on decorations, reported the various mottoes, etc., to be used in decorating the hall for the holding of the National Convention, which were adopted.

The Secretary read communications from Hon. Morton McMichael, Mayor of the city of Philadelphia, Capt. G. W. Forbes, of Ohio, and from Sergeant Day, of Michigan, which were accepted and ordered to be filed. General Negley read the following letter from Prof. Geo. Woods, LL. D., in compliance with the resolution requesting citizens to render accommodations to the delegates to the Convention, which was accepted:

PITTSBURGH, PA., September 13, 1866.

General James S. Negley, Chairman Resident Committee S. and S. Convention.

DEAR SIR: It will afford me great pleasure to entertain my friend Gen. J. L. Chamberlain, Governor elect of Maine, the accomplished scholar true Christian and brave soldier, during his attendance at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention in this city.

Very Respectfully Yours,
GEORGE WOODS, No. 11 Cliff street.

The Secretary also read the following communication from Will A. Short, Esq., Secretary of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Union, which was accepted and ordered to be filed:

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 13, 1866.

Capt. Norman M. Smith, Secretary Resident Committee, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

DEAR SIR—Responses to our circulars and letters are as numerous as ever. The interest does not abate, and we feel convinced that a wigwam or some larger building than City Hall, Pittsburgh, must be erected to accommodate the many thousands that will be in attendance, but of course we leave all the arrangements at Pittsburgh in your hands, knowing that your committee will do all they can to make the Convention a grand success. Please inform me as soon as possible what arrangements are being made for quartering the delegates, and whether subsistence for a band could be furnished, in case our delegation should bring one, as we now talk of doing. We shall leave here on the night of the 23d, arriving in Pittsburgh on the 24th.

The Maryland "Boys in Blue" as a general thing are all right on this matter, and promise to be fully represented in the Pittsburgh Convention.

I send herewith a few copies of our list of signers. This is only about one-half. Will forward additional list as soon as printed. Yours respectfully,

WILL A. SHORT,
Secretary National Ex. Com. S and S. Union.

[The list referred to was printed on separate blank sheets, and occupied three colums, closely printed.]

Reports were received from the "Boys in Blue" of the Seventh ward, Pittsburgh, and the Fourth ward, Allegheny city, officially notifying the Committee of the election of delegates to the National Convention. The Secretaries of the various organizations of the "Boys in Blue" are requested to send in officially, as soon as possible, the names of delegates.

On motion, it was resolved that the various Ward Committees of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and adjacent boroughs, appointed to ascertain what accommodation the citizens could afford to the delegates and visitors to the Convention, during their stay here, were instructed to open a book and leave it at some prominent place in each ward, for the signature and residences of those who would afford such accommodation.

The Committee on Programme recommended the following, which was agreed to: That there be a grand torchlight procession of the "Boys in Blue," and illumination on the night of the 25th, and that a grand daylight procession of the soldiers and citizens be held on the 27th inst. Officers and soldiers are requested to wear uniform. Enlisted men have a right by act of Congress, to wear the insignia of a Lieutenant.

Captain Samuel Harper moved that a committee of three be appointed to confer with the former officers of the Pittsburgh Subsistence Committee, to secure their assistance to the soldiers and sailors at the meeting of the Convention. The motion was adopted, and Major F. C. Negley, Dr. E. S. Umbstaetter and Major Samuel Kilgore appointed as said committee.

On motion, the following gentlemen were made members of the Resident Committee: Dr. J. G. McCandless, Captain Chatham T. Ewing, Gen. Thomas E. Rose, Major Jacob F. Slagle and Captain W. M. Hartzell.

On motion of General Pearson, a committee of two, consisting of Captain John G. McConnell and Dr. McCandless, were appointed to secure ordnance and ammunition for such salutes as may be ordered to be fired during the holding of the Convention.

The Committee then adjourned.

The "Boys in Blue" in Third Ward, Allegheny.

A meeting of the honorably discharged soldiers of the Third Ward, Allegheny, was held on Friday evening, at Colonel Girst's Hall, for the purpose of organizing as the "Boys in Blue." Colonel David L. Smith, was elected President, Captain Casper Gang, Captain Wm. Crider, Captain Eckert, Captain Oliver L Weil, Lieutenant Fred. Kohens, and Lieutenant Wm. Bowden Vice Presidents, and Wm. J. Criswell, Wm. Girst and Charles Robinson, Secretaries.

Fifty soldiers enrolled their names, after which an election for delegates to the National Convention was entered into, with the following result:

First Precinct—Colonel David L. Smith, Wm. J. Criswell and Wm Scandrett.

Second Precinct—Captain Casper Gang, Lieutenant Wm. Kohens, William Girst.

The meeting then adjourned to the street where twelve or fifteen hundred persons had assembled. Speeches were delivered by Colonel D. L. Smith, Stephen M. Ott and others. The meeting was very enthusiastic, and the addresses well received.

Liberty Township "Boys in Blue."

An enthusiastic meeting of the "Boys in Blue" of Liberty Township, was held at East Liberty, on Saturday evening.

On motion, Captain Norman M. Smith was called to the chair.

On motion, a committee of three, consisting of the following named gentlemen, were appointed to nominate permanent officers for the organization, and instructed to report at the next meeting: Lieut. John Dunlap, Sergeant W. P. Krebs and John M Bruce.

A roll was then made out for the signatures of honorably discharged soldiers, wishing to become members of the organization which was numerously signed during the evening.

After the transaction of the usual preliminary business the meeting adjourned, to meet again at Beltzer's School House, East Liberty, on Monday evening at half past seven o'clock.

Death by Suicide.

Jacob Auday, a well known resident of the First ward, committed suicide yesterday morning at his house, No. 4 Decatur street. The deceased had been drinking heavily for the past few years, and on Saturday night returned home at a late hour and retired to his bedroom. Yesterday morning, as he did not make his appearance at breakfast, his wife went up stairs and tried the door of his room. Finding that it had been locked on the inside, she looked through the keyhole, and discovered his body suspended by a pocket handkerchief from one of the posts of the bedstead. The door was immediately forced open, the body cut down, and an effort made to resuscitate life, but without effect. Auday was about fifty years of age, and leaves a wife and family. An inquest was held on the body yesterday, and a verdict in accordance with the above facts rendered.

DELEGATES TO THE NATIONAL CONVENTION.—The "Boys in Blue" of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, have appointed the following delegates to represent them in the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention on the 25th inst.: First precinct—Col. L. W. Smith, Captain Jos. R. Oxley and Capt. Wm. P. Herbert. Second precinct—Col. D. W. Megraw, Lieut. A. Kradel and Sergt. R. M. Blair.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—Rev. James S. Dickerson, the pastor of this church, has returned after an absence of several weeks from his charge. He brings renewed energy into his work, and after his long vacation was yesterday welcomed home by a full attendance of his congregation at Masonic Hall.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, September 16, 1866.

Secretary Seward Out of Danger.

Secretary Seward is pronounced by his physicians out of immediate danger, and, unless he has a relapse, will, it is thought, recover sufficiently to resume his duties in a few days. He had a severe attack of cholera morbus, which at one time appeared almost certain to carry him off, but he has escaped once more.

The President

Has remained very quiet at the White House to-day, resting from the fatigues and exhaustion consequent upon his protracted journey. He will resume the discharge of his executive duties to-morrow.

Admiral Farragut left for New York to-night.

Hon. David A. Wells,

Special Revenue Commissioner, having received his instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, will have his headquarters at the Custom House in New York, whither he will proceed immediately.

The Soldiers' Convention.

The responses to the call for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention at Pittsburgh, continue to come in rapidly. Among the prominent officers who have signified their intention of being present are Generals Burnside, Logan, Butler, Banks, Geary, Governors Curtin, Cox, Oglesby, Fairchilds, and many others.

Public Land Sales.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has received returns from the local land office at Nebraska City, Nebraska, showing that during August, 7,141 acres were disposed of as follows: Under the homestead act, 4,300; with agricultural college scrip, 4,152; with military warrants, 560; the balance was sold for cash. Returns from the Land Office at St. Cloud, Minn., show that 18,720 acres were located with agricultural scrip. At Stevens Point, Wis., 1,949 acres were disposed of, 800 acres of which were located with Chippewa scrip; 668 were sold for cash, and the rest entered under the Homestead Law.

Important Decision.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that where a tax for grading streets, &c. is assessed by a municipal corporation, under municipal or other public laws, and payment thereof made compulsory, the tax payer is entitled to deduct the tax so paid in making return of his income.

Revenue Receipts.

Revenue receipts to-day were $1,467,578.

WASHINGTON, September 16.

SECRETARY SEWARD.

There has been a slight improvement in the condition of Secretary Seward since last night. The indications are favorable, and his physician continues to entertain very strong hopes of his early recovery from the severe illness which prostrated him.

MEXICO.

Mr. Romero, the Mexican Minister, received dispatches to-day from Vera Cruz, dated the 31st of August. They contain the following news: The City of San Luis Potosi has been occupied by the national forces of Mexico. The city of Jesuitian, in the State of Vera Cruz, had been captured by the Liberals, the three hundred Austrians who garrisoned it having surrendered. It was reported that Guadalajara had been taken by the Republican forces, but this rumor needs confirmation. The Liberals attacked Vera Cruz on the night of the 29th ult., and captured eleven French soldiers. Maximilian had issued a decree for the purpose of collecting fifteen per centum of the value of the confiscated national church property. The tax is more than can be paid, and consequently occasioned much dissatisfaction against the author of the decree in the places subject to French rule. The dispatches state that the national forces were everywhere increasing, and that many of the Imperialists were going over to the Liberals.

THE CHOLERA.

NEW YORK, September 15.—Six cases of cholera and but one death were reported in the city today. In Brooklyn there were four cases.

ST. LOUIS, September 15.—The deaths by cholera for the week ending yesterday were 272.

FORTRESS MONROE, September 14.—Two cases of cholera were reported at Norfolk by the Board of Health of that city yesterday evening. Several cases reported the day before were recovering.

NEW YORK, September 16.—Seven cases of cholera were reported in this city yesterday, and five deaths. In Brooklyn, one death and four cases are reported.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., September 16.—Eight fatal cases of cholera occurred at Bristol (R. I.) in the last three days. There were two deaths from cholera in this city last night.

NASHVILLE, September 16.—Thirteen new cases of cholera and five deaths are reported.

FROM NEWBERN, N. C.

Destructive Fire—Buildings Destroyed.

NEWBERN, N. C., September 16.—A fire broke out near the corner of Broad and Middle streets this morning at one o'clock, and destroyed nearly two squares between Broad and Pollock streets from Middle Street, burning about fifty buildings.

The Times estimates the total loss at two hundred thousand dollars.

The Commercial thinks the loss will reach half a million dollars, with less than seventy-five thousand dollars of insurance.

Much suffering is caused by the disaster, and a public meeting to devise means for the relief of the suffers will be held to-morrow. The fire was the work of an incendiary, for whose apprehension a large reward has been offered by the city authorities.

HIGHLY INTERESTING.

NEW YORK, September 16.

FENIAN MEETING.

Head Center Stephens has called a meeting of the Fenian Brotherhood of Manhattan and Long Island, next Sunday. Important movements, it is said, may be expected soon from the headquarters of the Stephens faction.

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

Henry Ward Beecher preached to-day for the first time since the annual vacation, to an immense audience. Contrary to general expectations, he did not allude to political topics.

TELEGRAPHIC POLITICAL.

NEW YORK.

UTICA, N. Y., September 16.—The Unionists of the Second District of this county, have nominated Ellis H. Roberts, of the Utica Herald, for member of Assembly.

The Soldiers and Sailors' Convention at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, September 15.—The preparations for the soldiers and sailors' Convention on Monday are tolerably complete. Tent capacity for 30,000 to 40,000 men is ready in Monument square. The arrivals up to the present time are not heavy, but to-night and to-morrow will largely increase them. General Steedman, and the Committee of arrangements arrive to-night, and the programme will probably be settled at a meeting this evening. Governor Bramlette of Kentucky, Generals Wool, McCook, and Custar, are already here. The indications point to Wool, as temporary and Steedman permanent chairman. Beyond this, little is yet indicated of the course of the Convention, though the general impression is that little speech-making will be done.

CLEAVELAND, September 16.—Not over three hundred delegates to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention have yet arrived—not enough to give any indication of the spirit of the Convention. The morning trains and boats will give large accessions. There are complaints of the coolness of the reception of delegates—no formal reception being given them. The Executive Committe has rooms at the Kennard House, and will be in session to-night. The temporary organization will take place at 2 o'clock, P. M. to-morrow, at which time all delegations will have arrived.

Arrival of the Moravian.

FARTHER POINT, September 16.—The steamship Moravian, which left Liverpool on the afternoon of the 6th, passed this point to-day. She has upwards of three hundred troops on board, detachments of different regiments, but chiefly the royal artillery.

ITALY.—Cholera continued very prevalent in various parts of Italy. There are large numbers of deaths daily at Naples, Genoa, and other towns.

FRANCE.—Various diplomatic changes were considered imminent in Paris. The dismissal of Drouyn de L'Huys was the subject of much comment, and it was believed it would conduce to the preservation of peace.

The Fenians not to Meddle with Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, September 16.—At a meeting of the Board of Officers of the Fenian Brotherhood, held here yesterday, it was resolved that no person is authorized to speak for the Fenians before any political meeting, as the Brotherhood intended to keep themselves aloof from either party, voting only for their friends and against their enemies. The resolution was signed by John McManus, District Centre, and others.

Trial of Ordnance.

FORTRESS MONROE, September 16.—Major General Q. A. Gilmore has arrived here to conduct a series of experiments with fifteen inch guns and rifled pieces of ordnance, against the iron-clad stone target erected near the fortress. A board of engineer officers has been appointed for this purpose, who will arrive this week, and proceed with the experiments without delay.

From Hayti.

NEW YORK, September 16.—The Herald's Cape Haytien correspondent says General Salnave, captured by General Calroe, was soon to be executed by order of President Geffrard. It was considered that his death would not in any degree impede the revolutionary movement, which is merely to depose Geffrard, who has assumed dictatorial powers, and elect a new President by universal suffrage.

Arrived, steamer Crusader, from Jamaica on the 6th, and Porte au Prince on the 8th. Haytien advices via Jamaica to August 25th, report nearly the whole country in a state of revolution. There are almost daily fires at Porte au Prince. Gonaives was laid in ashes and deserted by the inhabitants, and at St. Marie a number of revolutionists were arrested by Government, and under sentence of death. Business is almost totally suspended. The Government is active, and it is believed would overcome the difficulty. Information from official sources state that tranquility was restored.

Firemen's Riot in Philadelphia—Man Killed

PHILADELPHIA, September 16.—During the Firemen's riot this morning, Henry Walters, a member of the Sheffler Hose Co., was shot and instantly killed. The shot is said to have been fired by the driver of a rival company.

General Rousseau Elected to Congress.

LOUISVILLE, September 16.—General Rousseau was elected to Congress from this district yesterday. There was no opposition. The vote was very small.

Louisiana Sugar Crop.

NEW ORLEANS, September 16.—Private advices from the sugar region state a fair, but not a full crop will be gathered, but there will be great demand for seed cane, which will make the sugar crop small.

FENIANS.

Rumored Movements of the Canadian Fenians—The alleged Plan of Operations of the Roberts Branch of the United States Fenians—Attempts to get up a Scare on this side of the Border—An Organization to Raid on United States Cities and Villages.

There is something astir among the Fenians in Canada. Many strange rumors are afloat of a speedy raid upon the Provinces, and of large deposites of arms and ammunition at points all along the border. It is reported to be the intention of the Fenians on a given night in the near future to burn and sack as many towns and villages as possible lying on the border and then penetrate the country to Montreal and Ottawa. It is designed to capture these capitals, raise the Fenian flag and declare the Irish Republic. This being done the people will be taxed to support the new government. It is said this is the plan agreed upon by the Troy Congress of Fenians. They expect large accessions from the Americans. If this unprecedented and impenetrable mystery supposed to veil their proceedings, it is nothing in the way of news. The same story has been circulated all over the country in various forms, and has, probably, very little or no foundation in fact.

On the other hand, we have rumors of organizations in Canada to raid on the United States towns and villages. A letter is published in the New York Herald, which we are not prepared to believe. It says a scheme has been started among the Canucks, to plunder and slaughter American cities and villages lying on the Northern border. They have assumed the name of U-E-licans, a name derived in part from the old rotten "United Empire Loyalists." The author of this letter says:

"They will claim the same pr[illegible]ection and treatment that the Feni[illegible] received from the Michigan last June, [illegible]d will demand their discharge in the [illegible]e way; that is to say, if they cannot r[illegible]cross without being exposed to our g[illegible]s. In all this movement there can be no reasonable doubt that government money was granted by the Canadian Parliament lately for secret service—I think $200,000. That is to say, money granted to pay detectives to watch the Fenians through the country and even to watch their movements in our large cities."

With reference to their password he gives the following inkling:

"To attract attention an expression will be let drop in which great or peculiar emphasis will be made on the letter U; for instance, 'How do YOU do?' or 'Who are YOU?' or 'Is that YOU?' or 'Are YOU so and so?' mentioning some name. One who understands will, in his reply, lay stress upon the letter E, as for instance, 'Yes sir ee,' or 'Yes, I am hee.' Then to establish the identity both will express something in which the letter L will be distinctly uttered, as 'All is well,' or 'I am ill,' or a less sanctimonious word, as 'You go to h—ll.'"

General Grant's Position.

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune had a free conversation with Gen. Grant a few days since and obtained the following information:

The General said that he had accompanied the Presidential party at the President's request—that he had abstained equally from declaring his own political sentiments, or authorizing any body else to do so. He said that neither Mr. Seward nor any other person could commit him to any set of political opinions—that he was annoyed at the successive attempts which have been made by Seward and others, to announce to the people along the road that his political views were in harmony with those of Mr. Johnson. I inquired whether it was true that he had attended the interview between the Philadelphia Convention Committee and the President, upon his own motion. He replied: "Of course not. That being a purely political gathering, it was none of my business. I was there at the request of the President, and all attempts to attach a political significance to my presence are unwarranted and impertinent."

I inquired whether the statement published some time since in the Lewiston Falls (Maine) Journal, purporting to detail a conversation with the General on political topics, was correct. To this the General replied that he had had a conversation with the editor of that paper, but that he had no expectation that it was to be published, and that if he had supposed the remarks which he then made were to get into the newspapers he should have refrained from making them. He was the General of the United States army, and not a politician.

Maine Democrats on the President.

In Maine the Democratic papers openly denounce the President as the cause of their defeat. The Portland Advertiser is especially vindictive: "We say unhesitatingly, for it is God's truth, that the timidity and feebleness of the Executive power in this State over the sources and springs of popular influence have alone caused the mortifying results in Maine, and the sooner it is known to the President, that he may spare other friends in other States a like fate, the better." And so will it be everywhere. The President is the heaviest load the democrats ever undertook to carry. He will break them down as he did in Maine.

THE PRESIDENT'S ST. LOUIS SPEECH.—A St. Louis dispatch says: I observe that a number of papers are trying to excuse Andy Johnson's speech in this city, on the supposition that it was the effect of too much whisky. Charity can cast no such mantle over his performance. He was not only perfectly sober, but spoke with very great deliberation, evidently weighing well the effect of every word. This statement is based upon personal observation and knowledge, I having been with the President's party almost constantly from the time they reached Alton until the close of the banquet, and I think I can tell when a man is drunk.

Licenses Granted and Refused.

Out of the large number of applicants for license to sell liquor in Allegheny county during the present year, a little more than one-half obtain licenses. At the Clerk's office are eight lists, commencing with January, 1866, as follows:

1st List—January—39 applications, 22 refusals.
2d List—February—38 applications, 24 refusals.
3d List—March—146 applications, 64 refusals.
4th List—May 2d—200 applications, 95 refusals.
5th List—May 30th—200 applications, 51 refusals.
6th List—June 27th—101 applications, 54 refusals.
7th List—August 11th—113 applications, 72 refusals.
8th List—August 29th—71 applications, 40 refusals.
Total, 991 applications, of which 459 were granted.

The ninth list, for the month of September, which will be taken up on the 26th inst., contains fifty-six applications of which twenty six are from persons residing in Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

NEW FALL GOODS.—Our dry goods merchants are now in receipt of their fall and winter supplies of goods. Mr. William Semple, 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny, will open to-day one of the largest and most complete stocks he has yet offered to the public. The stock embraces all qualities and descriptions of dress silks, merinos, plaids, delains, etc., while the assortment of shawls, blankets, flannels, etc., is unrivalled. Wholesale and retail buyers will find it to their advantage to call at this establishment and make their purchases before the stock is depleted.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The inimitable Irish boy and Yankee girl, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams, will commence an engagement at the Opera House this evening, when the amusing play the "Fairy Circle," will be performed. Mr. Williams and his accomplished wife do not visit Pittsburgh often, although this is the scene of their earlier triumphs. They have prospered financially and professionally—that is they have reached the topmost round in their respective roles and have added to their worldly stores. They are deservedly popular everywhere—in fact so popular that their engagements near home are of such almost interminable length that they cannot find time to visit Pittsburgh as often as they would like to. They are sure of a crowded audience to-night and an old-fashioned cordial welcome.

THEATER.—The beautiful spectacular play of the "Sea of Ice," will be presented this evening, with Ettie Henderson as the heroine of the drama. The play has many interesting situations, and abounds in elegant scenery. The stock company at this place has been vastly improved by the addition of several new members, and is now equal in talent to any in the West. Manager Henderson is determined to maintain the reputation of the old and popular theater, and will soon introduce a succession of distinguished stars.

THE VARIETIES.—Managers Smythe & Aimes, will, this evening, produce, for the first time, the new sensation play—"The Vampyre," and will present the model Variety Troupe in a programme of rare songs, dances and burlesques.

CLOSED.—The Academy of Music, the most beautiful theater in the West, closed its doors Saturday evening, after the brief season of two weeks.

COMPLIMENTARY BENEFIT.—The Edwin Forrest Dramatic Association have tendered a complimentary benefit to Miss Kate Estelle, the charming young actress, and it will take place at the Academy of Music Wednesday evening.

THE PRESIDENT AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

The President has brought his pilgrimage to a close, and is again at the White House. Better for him and his party would it have been, had he not left it; better still for the Republic had he never reached it.

The people have already reached firm convictions concerning this tour. Gladly would they blot out the record. It will stand a blotch on the page of history. The President did his best to sow pernicious seed. On the virtue, firmness and intelligence of the people depends the future. The President's pilgrimage, it is not too much to say, has not only alarmed but thoroughly aroused the people. As they have read his utterances from day to day, continually growing bolder and bolder, and every time he spoke more revolutionary, they have been moved by a feeling resembling that which pervaded the land at the firing of the first rebel gun. The Maine election shadows this forth, and no politician will deceive himself as to what will follow. The prompt renunciation of the President's doctrine, for that of Congress, by the New York Herald, is a fair reflex of the revolution and the fixed will in the public mind. This does not admit of contradiction—no argument is needed. It is obvious to all. Speaking of the President's return, the New York Commercial says:

> "When he reaches the White House again, let the President review his tour and its incidents. He must find reason in them for a change of course, and for a departure from the policy to which he has so obstinately and perversely held. Mr. Johnson claims to be one of the people. If he thinks and acts as the people think and act, he will abandon the theory of reconstruction and the policy toward the late rebels to which he has been strongly wedded. He has never had so fair a chance to overcome the opposition of Congress and to introduce harmony into the councils of the nation."

CLYMER'S HATE OF THE UNION CAUSE AND SOLDIERS.

The more the record of the Democratic candidate for Governor is examined, the worse it appears. His votes as a member of the State Senate upon raising the soldiers' pay and other questions pertaining to the war have been thoroughly canvassed, and are now known and understood by the people; and inasmuch as he says that he never cast a vote that he would now change, it seems unreasonable that any one who was truly loyal during the war should vote for him in October. Here are two more of his votes by which he refused to thank Generals GRANT and MEADE and the troops that served under them.

On the 6th of January, 1866, Mr. LOWRY, of Erie, offered the following resolution in the State Senate:

> "Resolved by the Senate, That the thanks of the loyal people of Pennsylvania are due and are hereby tendered to General U. S. Grant and the officers and soldiers serving under him, for the series of gallant services and glorious victories resulting in the liberation of the faithful Union people of East Tennessee from a military despotism more galling than ever was that of Great Britain."

On the call for the second reading the yeas and nays were required, the nays being as follows:

Messrs. Beardslee, Bucher, CLYMER, Donovan, Glatz, Hopkins, Kinsey, Lamberton, Latta, McSherry, Montgomery, Reilly, Smith, Stark, Stein and Wallace. The vote was determined in the negative, and by the vote of Mr. CLYMER the thanks were not tendered.

January 8, Mr. MCCANDLESS offered the following:

> "Resolved, That the people of Pennsylvania, through their Representatives, tender their profound and heartfelt thanks to Major General GEORGE G. MEADE, and the Army of the Potomac, for relieving our native State from the tread of the rebel hordes, and hurling them back from the immortal field of Gettysburg; and, that while we tender our thanks to the noble living, we revere the memory of the immortal dead who sacrificed their lives on the holy altar of their beloved country."

The yeas and nays were required on the call for the second reading with the same result, CLYMER voting NO, thereby defeating the resolution.

CITIZEN AND PRESIDENT.

Some queer logical practice is going on in the present political campaign. One of the most conspicuous items is, that of placing a high official, the occupant of a position in the United States Government that all citizens delight to honor, in the humble and questionable position of stump orator for a party, and to claim for him, in that position, the honor done to his exalted office in the Government. This logical trick, the great mass of the citizens have, by the instinct of good, common sense, detected and disowned, not without some indignation at the attempt to entrap them. The enlightened people of the United States are able to distinguish between a President and a mere pleader for a party. And so the grand tour through the "infected districts" of the Union may be set down as a great failure, so far as its principal design is considered. When the summing up is made, three weeks hence, it will be demonstrated to be more than a bare failure.

Another great logical feat is also attempted. It is this, to show that a certain "humble individual," the head of a new party that has not existed long enough to have its name known and familiarized even in its own family circle, is to be esteemed, judged and admired for the principles that he has suddenly and totally abandoned. The change has been so rapid from good to bad, and from bad to worse, that the vision of some observers is confounded, and they join in a sudden and mixed shout, some for what he was a moment ago, some for what he is now and some for what they expect him to be. But the steady eye and clear vision of the great body of Union men is not deceived. The great mass of the intelligent people discover and deplore the change, and while they cherish the former sentiments and approve the former political actions of ANDREW JOHNSON, they set their faces like adamant against his revolutionized and revolutionary sentiments of the present hour.

None of his present partizans are so emphatic and persistent as he himself is in claiming the merits of his past history. He pleads it to draw credit to his present action and purposes. Those who now oppose him adduce his past opinions and statements to dissuade him from his newly adopted and pernicious course. Nothing could give a stronger demonstration of the fact that he has reversed his engine and is smashing back upon all his previous opinions, policies and solemnly avowed purposes. In general and indefinite language, Mr. JOHNSON makes loud and oft repeated appeals to his record, always dating it at a period anterior to his breach with Congress. But he specifies none of those pithy and pointed sentences which he has uttered against treason and disunion, and secession and rebellion, and on which his fame, in the past times of trouble, has been reared. He claims the superstructure of fame, but studiously ignores the foundation and corner stone on which that fame rests. Nor is this all. When the true friends of the Union point to the notable inscriptions on those foundations stones, too deeply chiseled there by his own hand, once so vigorous and so skilled in the Union cause, the act is deemed an insult to the Chief Magistrate of the United States. To quote the very words of ANDREW JOHNSON, solemnly uttered by him, often repeated by him, to quote them, without a word of comment, without the alteration of a letter, is deemed by him and his new partisans an insult! And yet he never tires of appealing to his former record, though it is always done with cautious avoidance of particulars.

This sort of logic is too bold a piece of chicanery to pass current with the Northern people. And they do not feel bound to go back with the train, because he has reversed the engine, and raised the three big screams for backing. He will, of course, pick up some passengers in his backward trip, but the large majority of them will be of the class to which he, in his better days, allotted only the "back seats." Union men will go forward by the Union line, as heretofore, and, as heretofore, have a prosperous journey.

THE EXCURSION AND ITS RESULTS.

The political raid of the President and his Secretary of State into the "enemy's country," as some of their adherents style it, has been in some respects—not to speak of intentions—a good deal like the incursions of General LEE. It has made considerable noise and excitement, it has met with some to approve and more to condemn it, and it has been criticised, as to the manner of conducting it, by some of the President's warmest supporters, as General LEE's was by the more judicious rebels at Richmond. It has also filled the trumpet of Madam Rumor, with exaggerated and contradictory reports, some of them rivaling in magnitude and comicality that which greeted the open ears of rebeldom, with forty thousand Federal troops captured and the Union army annihilated.

It has also aroused the Union feeling to even an unwonted pitch of earnestness and intensity, it has set all the "Boys in Blue" on the alert, it has called out the militia, it has rallied the Home Guards, it has unified the constituency of an Independent Congress, it has inaugurated the era of big Republican meetings. The "enemy's country" is all alive to the occasion. The Union must and shall be preserved. The day is fixed for the contest. Without cannon, without bullets or bayonets, the 9th of October will decide it. And all the chance or choice left for the revolutionary interest and party is, to choose between Antietam and Gettysburg. One or the other they are sure of.

THE EXECUTIVE MANSION.

We are pleased to learn that extensive cleansing, improvements and ornamentation have been made in the Executive Mansion during the President's late absence. We hope the President will now settle down, in his present home, and quietly attend to the duties of his high and honorable office. He has had an opportunity, during his late tour, of hearing something of the voice of that people whom he professes so highly to venerate as the source of political power, and by a little patience and attentive listening he will hear more of it within the brief space of twenty days.

In attending to the duties of his Executive office, we wish him every success, and we tender him all honor. We have regretted and condemned his taking the unfortunate position in which he has lately stood before the country and the world, whether it was taken on his own suggestion, or, which is more likely, through bad advice. Now that it is over, although the reproach to himself cannot be entirely wiped away, and although the party which received his unseemly advocacy is doomed, beyond escape, to be overwhelmed by the indignant Union people, yet a quiet resumption of his official duties, without attempted encroachment on a co-ordinate branch of the Government which is as dear to the American people as the Executive Department, will draw to him while thus employed, all the respect and honor due to the office. The Northern people are not unreasonable nor are they irrational. They will discriminate in their judgment of their public servants, and the President, although officially the highest, is one of them. The people know the limits of his official prerogative and know the boundary lines between his proper functions and those of the law making department. If he transcend his rightful sphere in the Government, the people will not be backward to let him hear their voice on the occasion.

We, therefore, respectfully advise the President to be content with his own sphere, remembering that there are two others in the Government, neither of which can be safely trodden down.

MR. MONTGOMERY BLAIR stumped the State of Maine, backed by the appointing power. He made revolutionary speeches by way of interpreting the President's policy. He removed from office Union men who would not succumb; and in every way the power of the Administration was brought to bear. But for all that the Administration was beaten out of sight! The revolutionary speeches disgusted thousand of Democrats, and the removals set every Union man at work.

REPUBLICAN Union men should remember that their Maine brethren achieved the victory which has electrified the land, by organized effort. While thousands who have heretofore voted against them, joined their ranks, a full vote capped the climax. For a full vote let Union men strive. Everything is in their favor, but the defeat of the revolutionary party will be all the more crushing by a full vote.

OVERHAULING A FALSEHOOD.

The following explains itself. It disposes of a falsehood which has been extensively circulated in support of a bad cause:

ROOMS UNION STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE,
1105 CHESTNUT STREET,
PHILADELPHIA, September 13, 1866.

C. W. Ashcorn, Esq., Hopewell, Pa.:

DEAR SIR: Yours of the 11th inst. is duly received, enclosing that shamelessly false card on the subject of bounties given by Congress to white and colored soldiers.

Our political adversaries are acting upon the adage, "A lie well adhered to is as good as the truth." As military agent of Pennsylvania at Washington for more than two years, I became familiar with all the laws of Congress granting bounties to soldiers. I most positively affirm that no act or acts of Congress discriminate against white soldiers or in favor of colored soldiers. All assertions to the contrary are falsehoods, intended to mislead and deceive.

You are at liberty to make any use you please of this communication.

Yours, truly,
FR. JORDAN, Chairman.

Too Horrible to be True.

A Savannah dispatch to the Chicago Post has the following: Fifteen Union soldiers confined at Andersonville until the close of the war, were last Monday discovered still in confinement in a cave near Atlanta, guarded by rebel guerrillas, and totally ignorant that the war was ended. They were starved and emaciated, having been cruelly abused, and most of them were nearly idiotic from the protracted confinement in darkness, not having seen the light since leaving Andersonville.

The Stubborn Fact.

The Herald of Friday, sets up this stubborn fact: "We hold that the popular groundswell which has thus carried the Maine election by a majority, which dwarfs the majorities of Abraham Lincoln is the popular movement which, from all the signs of the times, will sweep across the continent and carry the constitutional amendment of the present Congress and decide the complexion of the next Congress against the President's policy."

RESUMPTION OF SPECIE PAYMENT.—The New York Post argues that the Secretary of the Treasury can resume specie payment by April next. The Secretary of the Treasury, it says, is permitted to cancel greenbacks to the amount of four millions per month, and that he will do it. This will dispose of twenty-eight or thirty millions of those notes by the first of April. The reductions thus made, it is estimated, will reduce the amount of legal tenders to four hundred millions on the first of April. There will, therefore, be one hundred millions of coin to pay four hundred millions of notes. Public confidence, it is held, would do the rest, by preventing a run for specie, which always is and must be a leading element in our financial affairs.

A STRAW.—At the great Cooper Institute meeting, in New York, to receive the Loyal Southern delegation, when Mr. Stuart, of Maryland (who, by the way, made the ablest speech of the evening) declared "the rope that had not hung Jeff. Davis, would not hang Thad. Stevens or Wendell Phillips, but might hang a greater traitor," the applause was louder and longer repeated than at any other time during the meeting.

SECRETARY SEWARD AND PRESIDENT JOHNSON.—A New York letter says: Politicians of every stripe are exercising their powers of speculation over the antics of the Johnson-Seward acrobats, as performed en route between Washington and St. Louis. Different theories are held on the respective positions of the chief actors; but all are settling down into the conviction that Seward is playing the role of "the coming man."

THE QUESTION SETTLED.—Says the New York Herald: "We regard the contest between the President and Congress as virtually decided by Maine. We bow to the judgment of the people of the mighty North, and we trust that the President will shape his course accordingly."

PHILADELPHIA FAILURE.—The Shipping List says: "We regret to announce the failure of a house largely engaged in the petroleum and shipping business here, and the suspension of their branch houses in Boston and New Orleans."

GENERAL GRANT.

If anything could, the connection of General GRANT with the Presidential pilgrimage, was well calculated to compromise him in the estimation of those who do not know him. There may be some who wish for assurance on these points. This we have in the following by the Chicago Tribune, speaking on perfectly reliable authority:

> "The persistent attempts of Mr. Seward, and others, to declare General Grant's political views during the Presidential electioneering tour, have driven the General into an express repudiation of the idea that any political significance attaches to his presence with the party. His brief speech in New York, in which he said that an agreement had been made before they started that there was to be no speech-making on their journey, and Admiral Farragut's remark at the same place that the President of the United States was his commanding officer, and he had always considered the request of his superior officer equivalent to a command, were sufficient in themselves to indicate that the two principal officers of the army and navy had accompanied the party at the President's request, and not of their own volition, and that the tour, so far as they were concerned, was exactly what it purported to be—a journey to the grave of a deceased statesman, having no political significance whatever.
> "We have known these facts from the beginning, and we now state, for the information of those who are accustomed to read the Chicago Tribune and who believe that we would not willingly deceive them, that we know that General Grant did accompany the party at the President's requests, after having declined an invitation from the Committee of Arrangements; and that he has repeatedly stated, during the course of the journey, that his presence had no political bearing or consequence whatever. The discretion observed by the General throughout the tour has been admirable and praiseworthy. In the midst of debauchery and blackguardism he has observed the proprieties of life, and the etiquette of the military profession. Conscious that he was taken along by the President for the purpose of giving eclat to Andrew Johnson and his policy and of degrading and injuring himself in the estimation of his friends, and of giving a triumph to his enemies, North and South, who will never forgive him for having crushed Lee's army and taken the rebel capital, he has borne even this infliction, with his usual composure. In fact, Grant and Farragut were the only persons in the whole party who demeaned themselves as gentlemen. The public early recognized this fact and lavished unbounded honors upon them accordingly.
> "We desire to impress upon our readers the fact that we do not make these statements from guess work. We write understandingly. General Grant is worthy of the fullest confidence of the Union party. There is not a drop of Copperhead blood in his veins. He cannot be used to overthrow the loyal Congress, either as the General of the United States, or as Ulysses S. Grant, citizen. If Andrew Johnson intends to inaugurate a new civil war for the purpose of 'arresting the course of Congress,' as he said in his speech at Newark, Ohio, he will find his greatest obstacle in the great Captain who received the sword of General Lee at Appomattox. This is a country of law, and General Grant is the foremost living embodiment of law. He buttons his coat around more law than any other American citizen. He has executed more law than any other man whom this country has ever produced. The army of the United States is created by law and governed by law. Every order issued by any officer, from the President down to the lowest subaltern, depends upon law for its validity and binding force. Not even a private soldier can plead the orders of his superior as a warrant for an unlawful act. Neither Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Thomas, Farragut, nor any other high officer of the army or navy, would execute an order in violation of law, or in defiance of the law-making power, which is but the will of the nation constitutionally expressed. In any conflict which may be precipitated by the President, as foreshadowed in his speech at Newark, Ohio, the army and navy will be the foremost to arrest his mad career."

—Major Gen. R. S. Foster, of Indianapolis, Ind., has been commissioned Lieutenant Colonel in the 26th (Regulars) Regiment, U. S. A.

—A dispatch to the Chicago Post from Savannah says, that Louis Napoleon intends negotiating with the United States Government for the capture and delivery of Maximilian's deserters, of whom it is estimated that one thousand are in the various southern gulf coast cities.

—Pierce, the "street preacher," has been mobbed in Harrisonburg, Va., and maltreated for addressing the freedmen. To add to his troubles he was arrested for inciting a riot, and bound over to keep the peace (!) for one year.

—The late Lord Northbrook, of London, was one of the richest peers of Great Britain. He sought for his title many years but always found a persistent opponent in Lord Palmerston. When the latter died the title was given him. He was originally a Baring.

—Hon. A. O. Hall, the distinguished District Attorney of New York, has added a new play to several that he has written, entitled "A Comedy of Fashionable Life." It is a thrust at the social condition of New York, and will be produced with John Brougham, Edwin Adams, James W. Wallack and A. H. Davenport in the cast.

—Robert Toombs, the Georgia ex-rebel, has turned up in Switzerland.

—A London correspondent writes that John Brown, the Highlander, who has suddenly found favor at the English Court because he resembles the late Prince Albert, has fallen into habits of dissipation, which are likely to result in his banishment from the side of the Queen.

—The New York Jenkinses are expanding like so many hollyhocks in their descriptions of the famous tragedienne, Madame Ristori. She is reported to be of medium height, with a complexion of deep olive, dark brown hair, &c., &c., which, "combined with the elegant and graceful outlines of her figure, certainly render her a perfect specimen of the fully developed and maternal Italian woman." One hundred and seventy-three trunks are required to contain her wardrobe.

—An exchange, presided over, we presume, by a crusty old bachelor, says: "Never look at the girls—they can't bear it; they regard it as an insult. They wear their feathers, furbelows and frills merely to please their mamas, that's all!"

—An English letter writer says that Gerald Massey is passionately immersed in spiritualism, and is indeed himself a medium. He confides to his friends that every idea in his new book on Shakespeare's sonnets, was obtained directly from the ghost of Shakespeare himself. He says he went over the sonnets line by line, with the spirit, and had the author's interpretation of each.

—A Berlin writer says that the Queen of Prussia will not visit Baden with her royal spouse, because his ways of living are too expensive for her ideas of prudence. He boards at a hotel! and she can not afford that much, even, of queenly state, but takes unpretentious private accommodations, eats little, to save expenses, and generously allows her chamberlain his honors for pay in his situation.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

A Planters' Convention is announced to meet at Atlanta, Georgia, on the first of October, to discuss the failure of the cotton crop, and adopt precautionary measures for next year.

MR. RAYMOND'S CARD.

The President and the Union Party—The President's Declarations.

HORACE GREELEY, Esq.: Dear Sir: In a card published a few days since you state certain facts which lead you to the conclusion that President Johnson, at the time referred to, "did not want harmony with Congress—that he had already made up his mind to break with the party which had elected him, and seek further lease of power through the favor and support of its implacable enemies."

I do not think the facts you mention warrant the inference you draw from them, as the President may have had other reasons for declining to act upon your suggestions than the one you assign. But of this the public can judge. My object in this note is to state certain facts within my personal knowledge, which led me then and which lead me still to believe that, throughout the winter, the President did not wish to break with the Union Party, and that he had no thought or purpose of "seeking a further lease of power," through the favor and support of its enemies or otherwise.

I conversed freely though not frequently with the President upon the action of the Union Party in Congress during the winter. While I never presumed to urge upon him unduly any views of my own, I never failed to express my sense of the importance of relying upon the liberal members of the party for such action as the good of the country might require, and I repeatedly told him that, while there was a strong conviction in the party that his mode of restoring peace and harmony to the Union was the only one that was practicable, a great obstacle to its adoption was found in the fear that he was going over to the Democratic Party, in which as a political organization the country had lost confidence.

He never failed in response to say that all such apprehensions were utterly unfounded—that he had no such purpose or thought, and that he relied with confidence on the judgment and good sense of the party which elected him, to whose principles and policy as declared at Baltimore he would rigidly adhere. He said the action of the Democratic party, as an organization during the war, had demoralized it and deprived it of public confidence. He believed that a gradual process of disintegration was going on in both parties, which would bring together all patriotic Democrats who had stood by the Government through the war, and the liberal Republicans who waged the war for the Union, and who were for Union now that the war is over. He always disclaimed any intention of going over to the Democrats, or of using the patronage of the Government for their benefit—saying always that he should fight out his differences with Congress within the lines of the Union party.

It is but just also to say that he uniformly disclaimed any wish for a re-election—saying he should deem himself fortunate to get successfully through his present term, and that his only anxiety was to secure the speedy and effectual restoration of the Union to peace and prosperity. He always laid special stress, moreover, on the importance to the Union party of bringing the Southern States back by a liberal and friendly policy. "Why," said he more than once, "why cannot our friends in Congress see that the Southern States will be our friends if we show them that we are theirs? Now, that slavery is abolished," he added, "there is no longer any cause for a sectional division of parties; if we can get rid of that, under a wise and judicious policy, half the Southern States at least will vote and act with the Union party. Why should we by hostile action drive them back into their old alliance with the Democratic party of the North?"

This was the uniform tenor of the President's language in conversation with me throughout the winter, and it satisfied me, as I endeavored to satisfy my friends, that he neither desired nor intended to break with the party which elected him, so long as it should adhere to the Union principles upon which that election was carried. And even after the call for the Philadelphia National Convention had been issued, the President urged that it would not fail to exert a wholesome moral influence upon the Union Party by showing that men from both sections could again unite on common ground, and work together for common objects.

Yours, &c., H. J. RAYMOND.

WANTED.—AGENTS FOR THE PICTORIAL BOOK OF ANECDOTES AND INCIDENTS OF THE REBELLION;
Heroic, Patriotic, Romantic, Humorous and Tragical. Splendidly Illustrated with over 300 fine Portraits and Beautiful Engravings.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, and will not get embodied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos, of the war. These illustrate the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service. From the beginning of the war the author has been engaged in collecting all the anecdotes connected with or illustrative of it, and has grouped and classified them under appropriate heads, and in a very attractive form. The volume is profusely illustrated with over 300 engravings by the first artists, which are really beautiful; worthy of examination as specimens of art. Many of them are set into the body of the text, after the popular style of Lossing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution. The book's contents include reminiscences of camp, picket, spy, scout, bivouac, siege and battlefield adventures; thrilling feats of bravery, wit, drollery, comical and ludicrous adventures, etc., etc.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit and authentic history are skillfully interwoven in this work of literary art.

This work sells itself. The people are tired of dry details and partizan works, and want something humorous, romantic and startling. We have agents clearing over $200 per month. Send for circulars and see our terms and proof of the above assertion. Address

WAR DEPARTMENT,
SURGEON GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D.C., August 18th, 1866.

AN ARMY MEDICAL BOARD to consist of Brevet Colonel J. B. Brown, Surgeon U. S. A., President. Brevet Lieutenant Colonel H. R. Wirtz, Surgeon U. S. A., Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Anthony Heger, Surgeon U. S. A., and Major Warren Webster, Assistant Surgeon, U. S. A., Recorder, will meet in New York City, on the 20th of September next, for the examination of candidates for admission into the Medical Staff of the United States Army.

Applicants must be over 21 years of age and physically sound.

Applications for an invitation to appear before the Board should be addressed to the Surgeon General, U. S. A., and must state the full name, residence, and date and place of birth of the candidate. Testimonials as to character and qualifications must be furnished. If the applicant has been in the service during the war, the fact should be stated, together with his former rank, and time and place of service, and testimonials from the officers with whom he has served should be forwarded.

No allowance is made for the expenses of persons undergoing the examination, as it is an indispensible prerequisite to appointment.

There are at present sixty vacancies in the Medical Staff, forty-six of which are original, being created by the Act of Congress, approved July 28th, 1866.

The Daily Commercial

Conversational Tones

A correct adaptation of the voice to distances is what we need, to prove musical and agreeable talkers. The pitch of the voice and the volume of tone should be such as to render the person speaking easily audible without any undue straining of the listener's attention, and nothing more than this. An excess of conversational tone and a voice too high pitched are excessively disagreeable, especially in society. It draws embarrassingly the attention of surrounding persons; the agreeable privacy of conversation ceases, and you become the declaimer to a small audience. The effect of this is almost inevitable to silence your companion, particularly if that companion be a lady, and of ordinary lady-like sensibility. There is an opposite extreme of all this, however, which is equally to be deprecated. It is pitching the voice so low, and using so little tone, that remarks have tiresomely to be repeated; moreover, imparting to the conversation a confidential character, by which, when combined with a certain bending or leaning towards the person with whom you are conversing, we have seen ladies excessively and justly annoyed.

It should be remembered that a clear articulation will always well take the place of great volume of tone. Better, far better, a low tone with a clear articulation, than a boisterous tone with a thick and blurred articulation. The predominating tone of speech, then, should be calm, quiet, low. The low tones of most voices are the richest. We have heard women occasionally converse in deep, mellow, contralto tones, the effect of which was exceedingly rich and musical. The voices of our American women are apt to be far too high pitched and screamy.

As the voice always has a tendency to rise in conversation, we should at least begin low. It is, moreover, a grateful relief to the ear, and a pleasant shade to the light of conversation, to drop the voice occasionally from a high and animated pitch, and regain the cool, quiet key-note originally struck. * * * *

In point of sentiment, the clear tone expresses gaiety and light-heartedness. We hear it in merry children at play. In its excesses this tone becomes disagreeable, acrid and pointed. The voices of termagants and scolds illustrate this. On the other hand, the shaded and sombre tone expresses quiet, repose, calm. In its deeper shades, sadness and melancholy. In its extremes, horror and despair. It is the indispensable tone in high tragedy. Now the conversational tone is only heard in perfection when both these shades of tone are brought into play. Persons who habitually use but one, command but half the resources of the speaking voice. Such is the case with most Americans. We use, as a nation, the hard, piercing quality of tone—we talk with contracted rather than expanded throats. This contraction is not that moderate one which produces the agreeably clear tone described, but it is that excessive contraction which produces a certain acridity and pointedness. Americans think and speak and act intensely—hence this intensity in their voices, we suppose. But for all pleasant, conversational purposes, we should do better to allow the throat generously to expand, and suffer the tones to come out, as they then will do, rich and musical. Particularly would our American women gain greatly in attractiveness, if they would drop this sharp, Xantippe quality of tone so often heard, and allow that quiet, reposeful music to steal out which to every ear is so captivating.—Once a Month.

The Castle of Chillon.

A writer in the New York Observer, describ ig the country and objects of interest on and oout Lake Lemon, Switzerland, has the fol wing concerning one of the most famous spots history: And now we come to the upper d of the lake and such an amphitheatre of ountains, rocks and hills, sure no other lake the wide world presents. The sun was low the west as we approached the eastern end, d a flood of golden light was poured in upon e bosom of the waters, and covered the stu ndous battlements on either side with a living ory. Close down on the edge of the lake is the d Castle of Chillon, more than 600 years age, where the Dukes of Savoy ruled with rrible power. Down into its dungeons we re led, to one where on a flat rock the con mned prisoners spent the last night of their es; to another where, on a cross beam still re, they were hung; to the stone columns, e of the supports of the castle, where for sev long years the Prior of St. Victor, Frances nnivard, for his heroic defense of the liberty Geneva, was chained to a ring yet remaining the pillar, the chain passing around his body d allowing him space only to walk around year after year, or to lie down and sleep by side. In this dungeon many of the Reform were imprisoned.

n an upper room we found the chamber of rture, in which was a wooden column, to ich prisoners were put to the question, ained, and tormented with fire, or drawn and etched with rings and pulleys; and, in an her room, a trap door is open, and a spiral ne staircase leads downward—the prisoner, conscious of what was before him, steps down ee steps into the darkness, and the fourth eighty feet below, where he is dashed to eces on the rocks. Yet, in this castle, and ar to these horrid places, are the bed-cham rs, and parlors and dining rooms of dukes d duchesses, men and women like ourselves, o eat, drink and be merry under the same of with all this cruelty and misery.

The Two Empresses.

he Empress Eugenie and the Empress of xico, it appears, met last week. The contrast s striking enough between the two Em esses, and no reflecting man could help being uck with it as they stood side by side for a minutes on the balcony looking out upon crowd gathered beneath. The one who, n to the greatness which the other has ieved, standing humble and suppliant ere, by birth and lineage, she ought have commanded, had the caprice fortune not opposed to sober realities of Na e, and rendered both their lives more like a e of romance illustrative of the good and evil ver of destiny. The Empress Eugenie was ired in violet colored silk, looped in festoons maccaroon ornaments over a pearly-gray t petticoat, bordered with violet colored uming. A chapeau Lamballe, with a pro ion of vine leaves and a few bunches of dark ored grapes, was placed upon the summit of head, and the rich chignon, with a profu of curls, beside, fell from beneath. A fichu Marie Antoinette of black Chantilly lace, ssing over the bosom and tied in a large t behind, completed her Majesty's costume, n which nothing could be more elegant, sim and rich at the same time. The contrast s rendered more striking by the decourage t visible in the attire worn by the Empress arlotte, betraying as it did the long absence n Paris, which becomes visible to the keen of the connoisseurs in fashion, and the ab action of mind which allows not of atten n to the due assortment of form and color, ything of the most simple kind worn with t strange indifference to the impression de upon the beholder which denotes the com e absorption of every sense in the one over ling anxiety of the moment.—London rt Journal.

Anecdote of Rev. Mr. Pierpont.

e are glad to be able to print the following ecdote of the late Mr. Pierpont, which is sent y a correspondent:

he death of this venerable gentleman calls mind a little history related to the writer by l Allen, an eccentric poet and editor in timore, who had the honor of first nomi ing General Jackson for the presidency. Mr. rpont and John Neal were partners in the goods business in that city about 1816—19. le thus engaged, they formed, with Allen Dr. Watkins, who was afterwards employ t the Treasury Department in Washington, three other literary wits, what they called 'Delphian Club,' which met one evening in week for literary exercises and entertain t; their numbers being strictly confined to n. Mr. Pierpont was the life of these meet , which were productive of rare enjoyment l the members. One evening it was among r exercises to produce four lines of the etest poetry, to convey the prettiest idea, contain the least sense, and Mr. Pierpont lled all the others in this performance. se were his lines:—

"'Pleasure comes in car of purple,
Purple car that's drawn by doves,
Doves that both the car and her pull,
Pull where'er the zephyr moves.'"

YOUNG LADIES'

INSTITUTE.

This School has just concluded its Tenth year. Its history has been one of prosperity and growth from the commencement. The last two years the daily average attendance has been more than two hundred, and many have been refused admittance for want of accommodation.

A New Building

is now under contract, to be ready for occupancy at the opening of the Fall Session in September, and it is hoped that hereafter all can be received as pupils who apply.

The Library, Apparatus and Cabinet are receiving yearly, valuable additions; and the purpose is kept steadily in view, to furnish every facility for a thorough course of instruction.

The Faculty consists of four male and eleven female teachers; all experienced instructors in their several departments.

The School is fully graded from the Preparatory department, through the entire course of Academical and Classical studies.

HARRISON STEAM BOILER.

No More Destruction of Life and Property, or Steam Boiler Explosions.

Great Reduction in Price.

From the rapid manner in which the HARRISON STEAM BOILER is coming into use, but little need be said of its conceded merits. They may be summed up briefly as follows: Absolute safety from explosion, as it cannot be burst under any practicable steam pressure; less first cost; economy in fuel equal to the best in use; facility of transportation; it occupies but about one-third the ground area of ordinary boilers.

In consequence of the recent improvements in its manufacture, the above boiler can be furnished to the public at less cost than heretofore and is now much the cheapest article in the market.

The eminent engineers, Messrs. Wm. Sellers & Co., speak of the Harrison Boiler as follows:

OFFICE OF WILLIAM SELLERS & CO.,
Philadelphia, August 15, 1866.

JOSEPH HARRISON, Jr., Esq.—Dear Sir: We have your favor of the 9th instant, and may say in reply, that we have now had the "HARRISON BOILER" in constant use in our Works for nearly two years. It has given us great satisfaction. We consider it quite as economical in the use of fuel as any boiler we have used, or with which we are acquainted, and are satisfied that it is much safer than any Boiler made.
Yours, truly, WILLIAM SELLERS & CO.

WORLEY FURNACE

AND

SEVEN THOUSAND ACRES

OF

IN

DICKSON COUNTY,

AT

CHANCERY SALE.

In pursuance of decrees of the Chancery Court at Nashville, Tennessee, in the case of A. C. Stockard, Administrator, &c., vs. the Heirs and Creditors of James L. Bell, deceased, I will sell at public auction at the COURT HOUSE, in the city of NASHVILLE, on SATURDAY, October 13, 1866,

The tracts of IRON LAND containing, together, 7,210 Acres, and known as the WORLEY FURNACE LANDS, lying on the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, in Dickson county, about forty-five miles west of Nashville.

Worley Furnace was originally built in 1844, by Montgomery Bell, and it was run from that time until about 1859. There is an inexhaustible amount of the finest quality of ORE close to the Furnace, and the metal manufactured always commanded the highest price. Over Four Thousand Acres of the lands are heavily covered with fine timber, and the greater portion of the remainder is growing thickly with young trees, which will soon be suitable for coal.

The Nashville and Northwestern Railroad runs through the tract, making it within easy distance of Nashville. Any further information in regard to these lands will be furnished on application to the undersigned at Nashville.

THE TERMS OF SALE are One, Two and Three Years Credit, with interest from the day of sale. Notes required, with personal security, and lien retained. Sale free from redemption.

ONE LARGE FARM

Of Four Hundred (400) Acres of Land, more or less, well improved, large Brick House, Double Barn and Out Buildings. This Farm is well watered and timbered, good Fences and about 200 ACRES OF COAL.

Bank opened and in good order. This Farm is one suitable for either Stock or Grain, and will average with the best in Butler county, and is well located, joining Zelienople, just 9 miles from the Railroad, at Rochester; two Stages running daily from Zelienople to Rochester and back. This property is now in the hands of the heirs of Joseph Allen, deceased, and in order to settle up the Estate, it will be sold at Auction, on THURSDAY, September 20, 1866, at 2 o'clock P. M., on the premises. For information inquire of WM. S. BOYD, Butler, Pa., or RICHARD ALLEN, of Pittsburgh, who are lawfully authorized to sell and make titles. CITY MATTERS.

PERSONAL.—C. L. Vallandigham is registered at the Merchants' Hotel.

Lieut. Wm. L. Foulk, U. S. A., passed through the city yesterday with a detachment of troops for Carlisle Barracks.

ENGINE SHOP FOR SALE.—We direct attention to the advertisement of a steam engine shop for sale, which presents a rare opportunity to skilled mechanics with a small capital.

DEATH OF A CITY OFFICIAL.—M. F. Irwin, Esq., Clerk of the Diamond Market, died on Saturday morning at his residence, on Tunnel street, of cholera morbus, after one week's illness. Mr. Irwin was a highly respected citizen, and an energetic and efficient officer. The City Councils will hold a special meeting this evening, for the purpose of choosing his successor.

WORKINGMENS' TICKET.—The Trades' Assembly, at a meeting held on Saturday evening, selected the following persons as candidates for the Legislature, and recommend them to the various trades as friends of the proposed eight hour law: George Wilson, Wm. Peters and John P. Glass of the Union ticket, and Hall Patterson, James Blackmore and J. C. Buffum, of the Johnson ticket.

COUNTRY HOMES.—The sale of lots at Fort Herron, near Minersville, will be resumed this afternoon, at 2½ o'clock, on the premises. Parties desiring to attend the sale will be carried to the grounds free of charge by the Minersville Passenger Railway cars. It is scarcely necessary to urge upon those desiring to secure sites for suburban residences that they should attend this sale. The property is most beautifully situated, is both healthy and easily accessible, and is all odds the most eligible to be found in the neighborhood of the city. Now is the time to secure a site for a pleasant home at a moderate price.

Aladdin Oil Refinery Burned.

A fire occurred at the Aladdin Oil Works, located on the Allegheny river above the mouth of the Kiskiminetas river, on Saturday afternoon, resulting in the total destruction of the refinery. The works consisted of a small frame building, and was not very extensive. There were one hundred and fifty barrels of oil in the works which were totally destroyed, together with all the machinery, etc., appertaining to the refinery. The loss is estimated at not over five thousand dollars, and is fully covered by insurance in the Beekman and Albany Insurance Companies, of New York.

Meetings.

A meeting of the Union Republicans of Allegheny City, will be held to night in the Diamond Square. Prominent speakers will be present to address the meeting. A band has been engaged for the occasion. Let there be a grand turn out of the loyal voters.

The "Boys in Blue" of the Sixth ward, will hold a meeting at the School House, on Franklin street, to-night. All honorably discharged soldiers are invited to attend.

The Union Republicans of the Ninth ward, will also hold a meeting to-night. Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Charles Robb, Esq., and others, will be present and address the meeting.

The "Boys in Blue" of Collins township, will hold a meeting at East Liberty to-morrow evening.

Man Dangerously Injured.

On Saturday morning a serious accident occurred on Wylie street, resulting in the dangerous injury to a man named Frank Moore. Mr. Moore was driving a spirited horse up Wylie street, attached to a light spring buggy. At the corner of Chatham street the horse became stubborn, and he struck it with a whip, when the animal sprang suddenly forward, throwing Mr. Moore violently upon a protruding boulder, and crushing the right side of his head in a terrible manner. The horse trampled upon him afterwards and the wheel of the buggy ran over him inflicting other injuries of a less serious nature. The injured man was carried unconscious into Snodgrass' drug store, and Dr. Wisbart called in who dressed his wounds. He was afterward carried to his house in Minersville, on a settee. His recovery is considered very doubtful. He is a married man, and a hatter by trade.

First Ward, Allegheny—Organization of the "Boys in Blue."

The honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the First Ward, Allegheny City, held a meeting at Seddon's Hall on Saturday evening, for the purpose of effecting an organization of the "Boys in Blue." Col. Levi B. Duff was called to the chair. On motion, the following committee on Permanent Organization were appointed: Capt Samuel Riddle, Capt. D. Cornelius and Gen. Charles Barnes.

The Committee, after a brief absence reported the following, who were unanimously elected:

President—Col. Levi B. Duff.
Vice Presidents—Capt. D. Cornelius, Capt. J. C. Sweeney and W. Paisley.
Secretary—James Robinson, jr.
Finance Committee—John S. Edgar, W. D. Boyce, J. F. Neely, J. M. Kelsey and J. Robinson.

On motion, the following gentlemen were appointed as delegates to represent the ward in the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention, to be held in this city on Tuesday, 25th inst.: Gen. Charles Barnes, Capt. S. C. Schoyer and Col. Levi B. Duff.

Second Ward "Boys in Blue."

The Second Ward Geary Club held a large and enthusiastic meeting Saturday evening, in Wilkins Hall. After the meeting had been called to order, Mr. Steel, President of the club, stated that the loyal soldiers of the ward desired to organize themselves into the "Boys and Blue," and he would vacate the chair. The soldiers then proceeded to organize, and elected the following officers:

President—W. B. Cook.
Vice Presidents—Frank Weyman, John F. Hunter.
Secretaries—R. D. McKee, Jos. L. Evans.
Enrolling Committee—Captain Galbreath, Jas. Hays, Crosby Gray.
Delegates to Convention—Captain David M. Howe, Lieutenant Thos. E. Wilson, Lieutenant John H. Morris.

T. T. Ewing, Esq., and Captain Moore, of Perry county, who had served under General Geary, made the speeches of the evening, which were enthusiastically received. The Second Ward Glee Club, under the direction of Henry Abel Jones, sang excellent and appropriate songs during the evening, and altogether the meeting was a delightful one.

Court of Common Pleas.

The Court of Common Pleas was in session on Saturday morning, Judges Stowe and Brown on the bench, when the following business was in order:

The Court granted a charter for the incorporation of the Pine Run M. E. Church. The building will be erected at the mouth of Pine Run, about five miles up the Monongahela river.

A charter was granted to incorporate the German Methodist Episcopal Church, of Allegheny City.

A charter was also granted to incorporate the Natrena M. E. Church, located on the line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, about one mile above Tarentum.

In the matter of the application of the Business Man's College in Pittsburgh for a charter, on motion of J. R. Butterfield, Esq., the Court made the final decree granting said charter, and the charter was ordered to be recorded.

In the case of Campbell B. Herron and James B. Lewis, praying for a petition to lay a railroad track from the Western Pennsylvania Railroad to their coal works, near Sharpsburg, the Court granted the prayer of the petitioners, and gave them the permission to erect the same and use it.

Hugh K. Smith filed a petition for a divorce from his wife, Margaret Smith, and the Court awarded a subpoena.

Court then adjourned.

Organization of a Geary Club in the First Ward, Allegheny.

A meeting of the loyal Republicans of the First ward, Allegheny city, was held on Saturday evening, for the purpose of organizing a Geary Club. General Charles Barnes was called to the chair, and Capt. S. C. Schoyer appointed temporary Secretary.

On motion, a committee of three, consisting of John F. Jennings, John Hanna and C. F. Ingham, were appointed by the Chair on Permanent Organization.

During the absence of the Committee, Col. Levi B. Duff, by request, addressed the meeting.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported the following officers, who were elected:

PRESIDENT—Capt. Samuel Riddle.
VICE PRESIDENTS—Col J. H. Foster, Wm. McKee, D. W. Smith and Capt. Simon Drum.
SECRETARY—R. A. George.
TREASURER—C. F. Ingham.
EXECUTIVE AND FINANCIAL COMMITTEE—Alex. Hanna, J. F. Jennings, Robert White, John Hastings and William Thompson.

Captain Riddle, on taking the chair, briefly thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him.

On motion, a committee of six were appointed to act in conjunction with the County Executive Committee to ascertain what accommodations could be furnished by the citizens of the ward to the attendants at the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention, on the 25th inst.

The Club adopted a sentiment, "God grant Geary victory," and then adjourned.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

The Eleventh Annual Exhibition to Commence on Wednesday—Extensive Arrangements Made—Great Success Anticipated.

The eleventh annual exhibition of the Allegheny Agricultural Society will commence to-morrow morning, and will be opened to the public on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, at the grounds of the association, Iron City Park, Lawrenceville. The managers have made all necessary arrangements for the accommodation of visitors and it is expected that the attendance will be much larger than on any previous occasions. The amount appropriated for premiums aggregates four thousand dollars, and will have the effect of inducing a large number of agriculturalists and manufacturers to compete for them. There will be twenty three classes of awards, four of which will include horses, cattle four, sheep six, swine one, poultry one, the others being distributed between dairy products, flour and meal, grain and seed, field crops, ornamental trees, fruits, wine, cider, etc. A few entries have already been made, and the number will be largely augmented today and to-morrow. It is probable that the exhibition of mechanical improvements will be a prominent feature of the Fair—the managers having made arrangements for a supply of steam power, while the display of the fine arts, domestic and foreign goods, farm and horticultural implements, vegetables, fruits, flowers and animals, will be fine judging from the number of applications that have already been made for locations and accommodations. The society does not confine its exhibitors to citizens of the county, but throws open its premiums to the competion of every person in the Union; and it is probable that this liberality on the part of the society will induce citizens from other States to enter the list.

The arrangements for the transit of visitors to and and from the grounds have been made on a very liberal scale. Besides the Citizens' Passenger Railway, whose cars pass the grounds every few minutes, Special trains on the Pennsylvania Central and Allegheny Valley Railroad will be run at stated intervals. Excursion tickets will be furnished at all stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad, west of Altoona, good for return until the 21st inst.

The Horse Circle, which has proved so attractive at all fairs held in this vicinity, will be opened to ladies every afternoon at three o'clock, when they will have an opportunity of displaying their grace and skill in equitation. An appropriate premium will be awarded to the best female equestrienne.

During the continuance of the fair, an address on Sheep Husbandry will be delivered by Col Harris, of Cleveland, a gentleman who has made the nature and treatment of sheep a life long study. The approaching exhibition promises to be a large one, and our mechanics, agriculturists and others should labor for its success.

Ladies' Committee on Decoration of Hall for National Convention.

An adjourned meeting of the ladies of Pittsburgh and vicinity, comprising the Committee on Decoration of Hall for the holding of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention, was held at City Hall on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Samuel M'Kee presided.

On motion, Miss Sue McCord and Miss Lizzie Lightner were elected additional Secretaries.

The following ladies were added to the list of Vice Presidents:

Mrs General James S. Negley, Mrs. John Watt, Mrs. Major Wm. Frew, Mrs. Rowan, Mrs. B. E. Fahnestock, Miss Eliza Chislett, Mrs. John F. Robinson, Mrs. W. M. McCord, Mrs. Leonard S. Johns, Mrs. Dr. Geo. L. McCook, Mrs. Robert Albree, Mrs. James Reed and Mrs. Richardson.

On motion of Miss Christey, the President and Vice Presidents were requested to appoint sub-committees, of which they should be ex-officio chairmen.

The President and Vice Presidents then appointed the following sub-committees:

Mrs. Samuel M'Kee, Chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth T. Wood, Miss Edith M. Cameron, Miss Lydia R. Snyder, Mrs. McQuiston, Mrs. J. H. Mitchell, Miss Nan Duncan, Miss Lydia Morris, Mrs. John Barton, Mrs. Noel, Miss M. Smith, Miss Mary Ward, Miss Lizzie Williamson, Miss Eliza Armstrong, Miss Fannie Brown, Miss May Wilson, Miss Mattie Sterling, Miss Emma Eichbaum, Miss Mary Laughlin, Miss H. M. McMullin, Miss A. Cubbage, Miss Mary Wall, Mrs. A. J. Hagan, Miss Mattie Clark, Mrs. Minas Tindle, Miss Tindle.

Mrs. John Wall, Chairman; Mrs. Chas. Robb, Mrs. Dr. Cote, Miss Hattie Moorhead, Miss Shepherd, Miss Birdie Watt, Miss Mary Johnston, Miss Mollie W. Watt, Miss Breed.

Mrs. General James S. Negley, Chairman; Mrs. Captain Norman M. Smith, Mrs. Lewis, Miss Maggie Montooth, Miss Mary Parker, Miss Lucy Graham, Miss Kate Baum.

Mrs. General A. L. Pearson, Chairman; Miss Emma Kean, Miss Ella Paisley, Miss Nan Paisley, Miss Ettie McKelvey, Miss Jennie Watt, Miss Lizzie Lightner.

Mrs. Robert Rowan, Chairman; Miss Julia Christy, Miss Jennie Morrison, Miss Ella Whitmore, Miss Allie McCord, Miss Mary P. Robinson, Miss Sallie A. Herron, Miss Lizzie McCandless.

Mrs. B. L. Fahnestock, Chairman; Miss Hettie Fahnestock, Miss Vandevort, Miss Fannie Canfield, Miss Mary Canfield, Miss Hannah Fahnestock.

Mrs. Wm. M. McCord, Chairman; Miss Sue Stevenson, Miss Maggie Gray, Miss Sallie Gray, Miss Lizzie Brown, Miss Laura Rhinehart, Miss Nannie Whitmore.

The President announced that Sub-Committees would be appointed by those of the Vice-Presidents who have not yet selected their Committees.

The meeting then adjourned until this afternoon at two o'clock.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

SATURDAC, September 15—P. M.

The noon quotations of the New York Stock Board indicate some improvement in the price of Government bonds. Eighty-ones are quoted 111½; old Five-twenties, 111⅝; new ditto, 108½; Ten-forties, 98¾; Seven-thirties, 106½@106¾. One of the Eastern financial writers remarks, that if the report is true that the Secretary of the Treasury means at an early day to redeem the outstanding four per cent. temporary deposits of clearing-house certificates, we shall no doubt have a long continuance of ease in the money market, and consequently an unsettled stock market, with a tendency to higher prices for all the more reliable investment securities, and especially municipal and company bonds. According to the last monthly statement of the public debt, these certificates of temporary loan amounted to $45,538,000—ten millions of which are held by the Philadelphia banks, and twenty-five millions by the New York banks. As is very natural, the New York banks are opposed to this movement, as it removes from their reserve its productive feature, and takes from them the four per cent. which the Government pays them for taking care of their own money. The banks are required to hold a reserve, and if they cannot get one that bears interest, they will have to hold greenbacks. In anticipation of this redemption a demand for compound interst notes—to be used in the place of certificates as a reserve—has sprung up within a few days, and they have advanced accordingly. The buying rates to-day in Philadelphia were as follows: Compound Interest notes of June, 1864, 115½; July, 1864, 115¼; August, 1864, 114¼; October, 1864, 113¾; December, 1864, 112¾; May, 1865, 110¾; August, 1865, 109¼; September, 1865, 108¾; October, 1865, 108¼.

—The Railway list at the New York board to-day, showed an advance in Michigan Southern, Fort Wayne, which sold up to 105¾, and Erie was up a fraction over the day previous. The Herald says the future course of Erie is a subject of considerable speculation on the street, but one upon which few venture to express an opinion, owing to the well-known treacherous character of the stock and the notoriously corrupt management of the company. The contest for control, if contest there be, may continue until the 9th of October, by the purchase of stock carrying the proxies. Those from England have not yet been committed, and the full number have not yet arrived. It is possible that there will be some challenging of votes by parties holding stock transferred to other persons before the closing of the transfer books, and this will prevent those to whom it was transferred, but who are not actual holders, voting; although it will not entitle the latter to vote. From all we can learn, the persons who aspire to oust the present management are a set of unscrupulous speculators, who seek the control of the road to promote their own speculative ends, and who will be likely to reflect as much discredit upon it, in the event of their succeeding, as those now in power have already done.

—At Boston the Advertiser of yesterday says:

"The stock market to-day was firm at the opening and strong at the close, a more confident and buoyant feeling prevailing. Although the transactions were not large there were more buyers than sellers, with strong indications that present orders cannot be filled except at an advance in prices. The adjustment of the Franklin difficulty on the basis before alluded to, it is understood, is progressing favorably, and its final settlement will doubtless impart an improved tone to the whole market. Franklin to-day opened at 52½, an advance of 2¼ on the closing bid yesterday morning, and advanced to 53 regular and 54 buyer 30. At the open board it advanced to 53½. Hancock advanced 2 @ 1 on sales 1,100 shares; Petherick also was better, advancing ¼; Pewabic advanced 1 on sales of 425 shares; Pittsburgh was also better, advancing 1; Quincy was strong, opening at 52½ and closing at the open board at 53, an advance of 1¾ from the closing bid; Rockland advanced ¼, and St. Clair ¼; Huron sold up to 48 regular and 49 buyer 10, against 45 bid yesterday. Bay State advanced ¾; Concord improved ¾, selling at 5; Isle Royal was better, selling at 13½.

—The discount market is fairly active at 8@10 per cent. on good customers' paper. Its condition is more satisfactory than it was, since there are evidences that merchants are having a better trade, and making collections of accounts that have been for some time in painful suspense. Increased trade, of course, vitalizes their bank credits. There can be but little doubt that many merchants have been forced to realize the value of credit, by the amount they have been paying out for interest. It is to be hoped that such an experience has impressed them with the propriety of teaching their customers lessons in the expensiveness of credit. Merchants who can not come into the market with cash in hand have no business with goods. There is simply no excuse for their doing business now on "tick." If they must needs have the benefit of discounts to carry on their trade, let them borrow at home where they are known, and where, if worthy of credit, they can negotiate their notes. Should their names not be good at their own banks it is not a reasonable thing for a merchant here to treat them any better.—Cincinnati Commercial, Saturday.

—Oil stocks have well nigh died out at the Philadelphia Board. Scarcely a mention is made of any of the numberless companies which were once so lively in that market. Even Ocean, with her reported yield of oceans of oil every day, is low down in the figures, and Maple Shade, with her once famous Coquette well, is languishing, and neglected. Dalzell occasionally receives a quotation at a fraction. Here we have the Columbia which still maintains her supremacy as the successful company in the country. Although comparatively low in price, there is no signs of "pumping out," and the stock is still in brisk demand.

Produce and General Markets.

[Pittsburgh Commercial's Report.]

MONDAY, September 17.—Business on Saturday exhibited no particular change. The demand was fair, and sales were regular—at rates that were current for some days. Our market contains an ample supply of produce with a sufficient amount of receipts for present purposes. The weather was changeable, but, on the whole, pleasant. Flour—We continue to notice a firm market, with a good jobbing demand. The advance we have previously noticed has been maintained. The sales of the week have reduced the stock very materially. The receipts since our last were: By Railroad, 814 barrels; by the River, 364 barrels. Total, 1,178. The advantages of the market were on the side of sellers. Apples—The market was dull. The supply exceeds the demand. Receipts 515 bbls. The sales were at irregular prices. Grain—The market for most descriptions was firm, with fair inquiry. Wheat was particularly fancied, the market being firm. The receipts have fallen off since our last, 170 sacks was all we have any account of. Barley was without moment. Prices are unsettled; receipts 222 sacks. Oats was dull. The receipts have fallen off. Saturday's only reached 137 sacks. Corn dull, but prices were unchanged. There were no receipts. Hay—The receipts of baled continues large by rail and river, reaching 359 bales—pretty liberal receipts. Cheese—The market was very firm, with a large trade demand; prices have further advanced. The receipts were only 36 boxes. Butter—The market has undergone no change. The demand was fair and sales were regular. Bacon was steady, with a good inquiry; the market contains a good supply. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

SEEDS—The market has not been active for some time, but transactions were limited. Timothy—sales of 25 bushels at $3 50. Flax—sales of 20 bushels at $3 25.

APPLES—The market is again overstocked. Prices have declined; sales of 110 barrels in lots at $2 25@2 75 ₩ bbl.

CHEESE—Was in quick demand; sales of 50 boxes Western Reserve at 16@16½c; Hamburg, 25 boxes, 17@18c; Goshen, eastern, 25 boxes, 20½c. Receipts, 36 boxes.

HAY—We continue to notice large receipts by rail and river; sales of 30 tons baled on the wharf at $24 00; sales of 12 loads at the scales at $19 00@25 00.

FLOUR—The market since our last has exhibited increased firmness, with an active demand for jobbing purposes and some inquiry for export. The stock on hand is not large. The receipts by rail and river were 1,178 barrels. The sales that came under our notice were the following: 100 barrels Minnesota spring, on track at $12 25; sales of 100 barrels Iowa at $12 00; 100 barrels of spring at $11 75; sales of winter wheat to the extent of 221 barrels, at $12 50, $13 00@13 40 per barrel. The advantages of the market were on the side of holders.

ASHES—Were very firm with a good manufacturing demand at the following rates: Soda ash, common, 6c; refined, 6½c; nitrate soda sales at 7a7½c. Pearl—sales of 50 barels Western at 14c.

LEAD—The market was steady, but not very active. Sales in a regular way at 11½a12c.

BUTTER—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article. The supply keeps pace with the demand. The rates were keg and packed, 22a24c; fresh roll 28a31c—as per quality.

EGGS—The market has undergone no quotable change. The supply keeps pace with the demand. We note sales of 12 barrels for shipment at 21a22c—according to condition.

GRAIN—The market has undergone no particular change either as relates to prices or demand. The market was bare of certain descriptions, whilst of others the supply was in excess of the demand. Wheat—Holders were very firm in their views. The rates for spring No. 1 were: $2 35@2 40; winter sold at the usual advance. Corn was unchanged, with moderate sales at 77@80c, on track and at the Elevator. Oats—The receipts having fallen off, there was a better demand; sales 1 car, Elevator, at 41c; 400 bu. from store, at 44c. Barley and Rye were without movement.

BACON—Was in fair request for jobbing purposes. The market at this time contains a fair supply. Among the sales we note the following: Shoulders—6,000 lbs at 17½@17¾c. Sides—4,000 lbs ribbed at 19¼@20c. Sugar-cured Hams—5,000 lbs at 25½@26c.

LARD—Has undergone no change for some time. Small lots changed hands at 21@21½c.

SWEET POTATOES—Sales 15 bbls Jersey at $6 50.

Weekly Review of the New York Wholesale Market.

NEW YORK, September 15.—There has been an animated demand for breadstuffs during the week, particularly Indian Corn. The advance of low and medium grades of Flour has been a dollar a barrel, owing to the reduction of stock. The favorable news from Europe has stimulated the activity.

Pork has gradually strengthened, with considerable speculative inquiry, but closes quiet.

Beef and Lard, under more liberal receipts, have declined, while Bacon, with a good demand from the south, has advanced.

The advices from the Hop growing districts are more favorable.

Flour—The stock is reduced to less than 90,000 bbls. This, with the light receipts at the Lake ports, has imparted firmness to the market.

Wheat—There has been considerable activity in new amber wheat, and prices have fluctuated, closing heavy. Choice spring wheat is extremely scarce, and for No. 1 new, to arrive, $2 40 has been bid. Our stock is extremely limited for the season and is estimated at 140,000 bushels. It consists chiefly of inferior spring.

New Barley has arrived more freely, and sells slowly at $1 13a1 15.

Whisky is firm, and a good business is doing. Prices are without change.

Coffee—Rio has been less active. There has been no change in prices, but the market rules firm. We quote the whole range of Rio at 16½a19½c.

Cotton—There has been a good demand, principally from spinners. Prices have advanced, closing firm at 33½c to 36c for middling uplands, New Orleans and Texas.

Molasses—The market was dull until Friday, when there was an active demand, and prices ruled firm. We quote Cuba Muscovado at 45c to 56c, and Porto Rico 55c to 75c.

Sugar—There has been more activity during the week, but prices have been somewhat irregular. We quote fair to good refining at 10½c to 12⅝c; Cuba 9½c to 12¼c; Porto Rico 11¼c to 11¾c.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE OIL MARKET.

[Pittsburgh Commercial's Report.]

MONDAY, September 17, 1866.—The following are the receipts of oil by the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers, and the various Railroads for the past week; also, from the 1st of January, with a comparative table for the same period in 1865:

	Rivers.	Railroads.	Total
Monday, Sept. 10	1,715	2,204	3,919
Tuesday, Sept. 11	3,826	1,870	5,696
Wednesday, Sept. 12	1,122	3,736	4,858
Thursday, Sept. 13	4,400	2,328	6,728
Friday, Sept. 14	7,484	1,834	9,318
Saturday, Sept. 15	5,096	2,056	7,152

The sales of the week were not large, still they exhibit an improvement over last week's transactions. The sales were made at rates that were current for some days. Prices appear fixed. Bulk, 15@16c, often dividing on 15½c, the gravity having a good deal to do with regulating the prices. The following are the daily transactions for the week:

Monday the market being active, the sales of bulk reached 2000 barrels for present and future delivery, at 15@16c per gallon. One lot of 32 gravity sold at 17½c. Refined oil—The market was firmer, buyers being more anxious to invest. The sales were 2,500 barrels bonded, at 39c on the spot, and 45c for immediate Philadelphia delivery. Tuesday the market opened dull, whilst there was no decline in price; buyers were disposed to hold off. The sales only reached 1100 barrels at the previous day's prices. Refined—The market was dull; the entire sales were 1500 barrels bonded, on the spot, 38½c; September and October, Philadelphia, 45½c. Wednesday—The transactions in crude since our last were 1400 barrels. Bulk ranged from 15@16½c as per gravity. The market closed dull. Refined—holders were firm with a light demand. Refiners were not disposed to force matters; small lots only were disposed of on the spot. Free on cars, 38¾@39c. Thursday—the Crude sales were 2,500 barrels, at bulk, 15½@16c; barrels included 21c. The market was not active. Refined—the sales were 2,000 barrels at 38½c for bonded, immediate delivery, and 44½c for Philadelphia delivery. Friday—There was a larger demand for oil. The sales, however, were pretty extensive. Crude reached 5,000 barrels, in lots. The rates were the same as the previous day. Refined—The sales were 2,000 bbls bonded at a decline of half cent per gallon. Saturday—The market was steady with a fair demand for crude. The receipts were the largest we have named for some time, amounting to 11,220 bbls. Of course, a large portion goes to fill the September contracts. The Smith's Ferry receipts are increasing very materially. Among the sales were the following: 575 bbls bulk at 15c; 1,200 do at 15c; 400 do at 15½c; 600 do at 15½c, being equal to 20@20½c including barrels.

REFINED OIL—There was a good deal of inquiry; the sales however, were limited. The rates for bonded, on the spot, were 38½c—some holding out for 39c. Philadelphia immediate, 45c. The sales were: 1,000 barrels bonded, all September delivery, sellers' option, 39c; 500 barrels December delivery, Philadelphia, 44c.

Philadelphia Petroleum Market.

September 15.—Petroleum—The market has been quite dull since our last notice, and prices have fallen off ⅛ to 1c per gallon—there being very little demand either for export, home consumption or future delivery. Sales of 7,000 bbls Crude at 26½a27c—closing at 26½c; 5,000 bbls Refined in bond at 45a45½c, for all September delivery, closing dull at the former figure; 500 bbls on board, a forced sale, at 44½c, including 1,000 bbls deliverable the last half of the month at 45½c; 500 bbls standard white for October at 46c; 500 bbls for November at 45½c; 500 bbls for November at 45c, b o; 500 bbls for December at 44½c, b o—at the close it was freely offered for October, November and December delivery at 45c, without finding buyers; 200 bbls Free at 62a66c; Residuum in lots at $5a5 12½. Prices of Benzine are nominal.

The following are the receipts of Crude and Refined Petroleum at this port during the past week:

Crude, barrels .... 1,070.
Refined, barrels .... 8,660.

Philadelphia Iron Market.

September 15.—Iron—There is a firm feeling in the market for Pig Metal, but not much doing. Sales of 500 tons No. 1 Foundry at $47a48; 250 tons No. 2 at $45; 300 tons Grey Forge at $44; 700 tons "Cornwall," part to go West, on secret terms; 100 tons Virginia Charcoal at $47; and 300 tons old Shell and Shot at $40 per ton.

Scotch Pig—Is firmer. Sales of Eggleston at $47, and Gartsherrie at $48a50 per ton.

Blooms—There is no change to notice.

Manufactured Iron—Trade is very moderate, but prices are unchanged.—Price Current.

Iron—Pig Metal is in fair demand at full rates. Sales of No. 1 Anthracite at $47a48, and No. 2 at $46 per ton. Scotch Pig moves slowly at $50. Blooms are unchanged. We quote Charcoal at $90a100. Manufactured Iron is not much inquired after but holders are firm in their views.—North American.

New York Finance and Trade

Gold Closed at 144¼.

Special Dispatch to Western Press.

NEW YORK, September 15, 1866.

THE MONEY MARKET

Is unchanged, and remains very easy.

THE GOLD MARKET

Closed at 144¼.

EXCHANGE.

The foreign exchange market remains dull. The City of Boston to-day took out $158,000 in specie.

GOVERNMENTS

Were quiet and steady this evening.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, September 15—Money steady and unchanged at 4a5 per cent. Sterling quiet and nominal, at 107a107¾. Gold lower, opening at 144½, and advancing to 144⅝, and closing at 144¼. Exports of specie to-day $158,000. Government stocks more active and firmer. Freights to Liverpool quiet and steady.

The Commercial's money article says: Monetary affairs continue to exhibit extreme ease. The prevailing rate on call loans is 4 per cent., with exceptions at 5 per cent. Discounts are quiet, owing to the limited supply of paper, the rate for prime names being 5a6 per cent. There is less demand for currency for moving the Western crops than has been anticipated. Instead of a heavy flow of money westward, we find exchanges with that section about evenly balanced. The stock market shows decidedly more firmness and activity. There is more disposition to buy, and prices are ½a¾ per cent. higher. Governments were stronger at the board, under the improved quotations at London, and 5-20s of 1862 rose ½ per cent. After the board prices fell off ⅛a¼ per cent. The City of Boston takes out to day $138,249 in specie. The cable telegram misstates the amount of gold sent by the Hansa at £14,000, the correct amount being £34,449.

The Post's money article says: It is especially announced elsewhere, that the clearing house certificates will be paid off in cash by Mr. McCulloch. Of these certificates twenty-five millions are held in this city, ten millions in Boston, and the rest in Baltimore, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cincinnati. At Chicago none, we believe, are held, the banks there preferring to make their exchanges in greenbacks. The arrangement is that these certificates shall be paid off in two instalments, the first being payable on the 25th of September, and the second on the 25th of October. The effect of this will be to put forty-five millions in currency into the banks, but it is not supposed that much additional ease will thus be produced in the money market, because the banks will want the greenbacks for the same purpose for which they use the clearing house certificates—that is, to pay their daily balances. The loan market is easy at 4@5 per cent., with more business doing at the low rates. Commercial bill continue quiet. Dry goods and auction paper is in fair supply, and a little produce paper is making its appearance. There is still too large a proportion of long dates, but conservative houses regard them with a very proper hesitation. Choice names pass at 5@6 per cent. The stock market is more buoyant. Governments are all better, and Railroad shares are advancing under an active speculative demand. After the board New York Central was 107, Erie 73, Hudson, 125; Reading, 115⅜.

Philadelphia Market.

Molasses—There has been more doing, but prices are unchanged. A cargo of 270 hhds, 40 tcs Cardenas Muscovado sold at 50c; a cargo of 345 hhds 11 tcs and 41 bbls Trinidad at 47c; 90 hhds English Island at 46c; 15 hhds Sagua Muscovado at 52c; 60 hhds tart Matanzas clayed at 45c, and 20 bbls Muscovado at 62½c.

Sugar—There has been more demand at former quotations. Refined has been selling more freely, but at a decline of ¼c. Sales of 1,200 hhds Cuba at 10½a11¼c; 200 hhds Porto Rico at 12½a14c; 1,000 boxes Havana, Nos. 12 and 12½, at 8¼c, gold; 253 boxes, part clarified, at 12½a12¾c, currency, and 900 bbls Sugar House at 10a10½c.

Teas—There is no material change in the market. Greens are in more demand, and bring full prices. Oolongs of medium quality are in request at 85a98c. Other grades are inactive.

Coffee—There has been an arrival of 3,018 bags Rio, per "Terpsichore," which comprises the entire stock of this description in first hands; of Laguayra the stock is about 1,000 bags. Sales of 200 bags of the former at 26¾a27½c, currency, and 60 bags Laguayra at 27½c, currency.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, September 15.—Cotton steady and prices are without decided change, with sales at 33½c for middling uplands. Flour less active and 10a25c lower, at $7 00a10 00 for extra State; $9 30a11 25 for extra round hoop Ohio, and $11 20a13 25 for trade brands, closing quiet. Whisky quiet, with small sales at previous prices. Wheat dull and 1a2c lower, at $1 42½, all 58 for inferior Chicago spring; $2 00 for mixed Milwaukee; $3 00a3 05 for new white western. Receipts of corn 363,669 bushels; market without decided change with a fair inquiry, chiefly from speculators for western account; sales at 82½c for inferior; 83a83½c for shipping, mixed afloat; and 84a85½c for do in store. Receipts of oats 169,554 bushels; market dull and declining; sales 27,000 bushels at 41a47c for Chicago; 46a49c for Milwaukee. Petroleum dull at 27c for crude, and 43a44c for refined, in bond. Pork quiet and rather firmer; sales at $33 15a33 25 for new mess, closing at $33 20, cash; $31 00a31 25 for old do, and $30 for prime; also, 3,000 bbls new mess for September, October and November, sellers' and buyers' option, at $31 00a33 25. Beef steadier at unchanged prices. Bacon quiet. Lard dull and heavy at 17a20c.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight the marks on the pier indicated five feet and about at a stand. Trade on the wharf was active. The steamers that left were loaded to their utmost capacity.

THE Wheeling packet for this day is the steamer New State, Capt. Harlin. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. She leaves at noon.

THE fine packet Importer, Capt. John Noss, is announced for Cairo and New Orleans. She will have dispatch.

CAPT. J. H. PORTER raised steam on Saturday on his new side wheel packet Ezra Porter. Everything was found to work well. The fancy tops on her chimneys are very handsome.

THE Wheeling and Parkersburg packet for this day is the steamer Bayard, Captain George D. Moore. The Bayard is side wheel, has unsurpassed accommodations, and is in charge of as clever officers as can be found. Our esteemed friend Captain D. Moore, who has charge of the office, will see that passengers are well cared for.

THE first class passenger steamer Armenia, Captain McCallam, is announced for Evansville, Cairo and St Louis. This boat is just off the way, having undergone thorough and complete repairs; in fact, no expense has been spared in order to make her as good as new. Captain McCallam is an officer of large experience and pleasing address. Persons who have traveled on the Armenia speak in flattering terms of her appointments—it could not be otherwise while McCallam, Sr., has command, and McCallam, Jr., presides in the office. We take pleasure in recommending boat and officers.

PITTSBURGH AND PORTSMOUTH.—The public will be pleased to learn that the new and splendid passenger steamer W. A. Caldwell has entered the Marietta, Gallipolis and Parkersburg trade as a regular weekly packet. This boat is one of the best of her class ever constructed. She was built under the superintendence of her commander, who has built many of the most successful boats in the Arkansas and other rivers. In the construction of the Caldwell no expense was spared, in fact, she is altogether an extra affair. We congratulate the people of Portsmouth and way points. That she will be a favorite no person acquainted with the officers can doubt. The clerks are Messrs. Blood and Moore—if Blood is not on hand you will be certain to find Moore. The Caldwell will leave Pittsburgh every Tuesday at 12 M., and we advise our merchants to patronize this line; it will pay them a large dividend—better than oil stocks.

STEAMER ARGOSY.—In passing along the Allegheny wharf we thought we discovered a new boat. Desirous of ascertaining particulars, we went on board and were met by our old friend, Captain L. Vandergrift, and his accomplished clerk, W. H. Scott, who informed us we were on board the "new" Argosy. Captain Vandergrift has been trying to see how handsome she could be made to appear—in fact the appearance resembles a new boat entire. Besides other improvements too numerous to mention, she has been furnished with sixteen inch cylinders, five feet stroke. This power will make her one of the fastest boats that comes to this place. She will run as a regular packet between this port, Cincinnati and Louisville. She will commence receiving this day, and will take her departure on Wednesday. Our best wishes accompany the new Argosy and her owners.

Cincinnati.

September 15.—We condense the following from the Enquirer:

The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, with the thermometer at seventy-eight degrees in the shade.

The river at this point, on account of the recent heavy rains, was swelling slowly yesterday, with fully thirteen feet three inches in the channel. The Licking and other streams above were reported pouring out strong yesterday.

The Louisville Democrat of yesterday says:

The Louisville Democrat says:

Various rumors were put in circulation upon the streets yesterday, in regard to the People's Line of steamers between this port and Cincinnati. One was that the company had "gone up." Another was that they had been "bought in," or rather "sold out." Another that they had made an assignment, and that they were forever and teetotally "busted." Hearing these rumors, we at once proceeded to "headquarters," where we learned the following facts: Trade and travel between this port and Cincinnati has been gradually decreasing during the past few months, in fact there was not enough to justify the number of boats in both lines to keep it up. As to the rumors of the People's Line Co. having made an assignment, &c., that is all "bosh." There is no truth in any of the rumors that we heard yesterday, or heard of. The directors of the People's Line Company held a meeting yesterday morning, and after due consideration on the subject, they deemed it not only prudent but wise to discontinue the trips of the People's Line steamers between this port and Cincinnati, for the present. It is not known whether it will continue or not, when trade and travel revives, nor have they made up their minds as to whether they will ever resume again or not. As the matter now stands the People's Line of steamers, Wild Wagoner and St. Charles, will discontinue their trips between Louisville and Cincinnati until further orders, the change taking effect to-morrow. The Wild Wagoner will leave as usual to-day at 11 o'clock, and the St. Charles may probably leave Cincinnati at the usual hour. We hope they will go on, and it is more than probable that they will.

The Commercial, same date, says: The People's Line packet St. Charles laid up yesterday, on her arrival from Louisville, reshipping the freight received in the wharf-boat for her on the United States. We also hear her consort, the Wild Wagoner, laid up at Louisville yesterday. After running seventeen months the People's Line have suspended operations, leaving the field clear for the old United States Mail Line. This is the longest and most formidable competition the United States Mail Line had ever had to contend with, both companies having carried freight and passengers at ruinously low or losing rates. It is probable the St. Charles will take the place of the Monsoon, in the Cincinnati and Portsmouth trade. The Louisville Journal thus alludes to the suspension of the People's Line:

"We regret to learn that the People's Line have resolved to suspend, for the present, the running of their boats. Captain Jesse K. Bell has resigned the Presidency, and will probably go to New Orleans, where, we understand, he has been offered a pleasant and lucrative position. We regret to lose the People's Line, and we regret exceedingly to lose Captain Bell.

"The St. Charles went out yesterday, and will remain at Cincinnati. The Wild Wagoner makes her last trip to-day."

Captain John A. Williamson sold the Moriner to Mr. Morton, yesterday, for $12,000. We also hear that an interest—one eighth—of the Amazon was sold, at the rate of $24,000 for the entire boat.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., September 14, 7 P. M.—There is four feet in the steamboat pass over the falls and at a stand. No boats passed up or down but the local packets last night. There were very heavy rains all night.

CONCERT,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE
Soldiers' and Sailors'
NATIONAL ORPHANS' HOME FUND,
Under the Auspices of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Union,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
At Grover's Theater,

SPECIAL NOTICE.
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 2, 1866.
A large number of the Tickets remaining unsold it will be necessary to postpone the drawing until Thursday, October 11th, '66,
At which time it will positively occur.
The many swindling schemes that have been presented to the public during the past few months, somewhat delayed our sales until we were able to satisfy the people throughout the country, that this enterprise was genuine, and solely for charitable purposes. The Directors are confident of the sale of every ticket, and have allotted sufficient time to guarantee the sales without any further postponement.
$7 300,000 Tickets will be sold at $1 each—75,000 Presents awarded, valued at $250,000! $25,000 of the Profits to be given to the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Orphan Home Fund. $2,500 to the Washington Male and Female Orphan Asylum, the balance, after deducting expenses, to be paid to the Treasurer of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Union, of Washington, D. C.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.
The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.
The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.
Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.
The business will be conducted by the same offices and Directors.
